POLAND IS WILLING TO DISCUSS ISSUES ROOSEVELT ADVISED

United States President Cables Hitler Concerning Polish Offer—Text of Warsaw Consent Indicates Desire to Avoid Hostilities—Germany Silent on First American Note to Hitler

BERLIN, Aug. 26 (Saturday) (P).—Government spokesmen said early today any answer to the second peace message of President Roosevelt would come from Adolf Hitler himself or his Chancellor staff, because of the delicacy of the present situation. They were unable to say whether the President's appeal had already been transmitted to Hitler.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (P).—President Roosevelt addressed tonight another appeal to Fuehrer Hitler immediately after receiving an acceptance from President Moscicki of Poland and asked Hitler to "agree to the pacific means of settlement accepted by the Government of Poland."

"All the world," the President added, "prays that Germany, too, will accept."

President Roosevelt telegraphed to Hitler the text of President Moscicki's reply in which Moscicki agreed to direct negotiation or the process of conciliation.

He then said: "Your Excellency has repeatedly and publicly stated that the ends and the objectives sought by the German Reich were just and reasonable."

POLAND WILLING
"In his reply to my message, the President of Poland has made it plain that the Polish Government is willing, upon the basis set forth in my messages, to agree to solve the controversy which has arisen between the Republic of Poland and the German Reich by direct negotiation or through the process of conciliation."

Mr. Roosevelt told the German Chancellor:

"Countless human lives can be yet saved and hope may still be restored that the nations of the modern world may even now construct a foundation for a peaceful and a happier relationship if you, and the Government of the German Reich, will agree to the pacific means of settlement accepted by the Government of Poland."

"All the world prays that Germany, too, will accept."

The President's message to Hitler was written almost immediately after the reply from the President of Poland arrived.

HITLER SILENT
It recalled the procedure followed by the President at the time of the Munich crisis. The President then addressed two telegrams to Hitler, the second following immediately after the responses received from Hitler himself and President Benes of Czechoslovakia. This time.

SERVE WARRANT IN MIDSTREAM

Charge Lies Against German Freighter for Non-Delivery of Goods

QUEBEC, Aug. 25 (P).—The German freighter Koenigsberg, hailed in midstream tonight by Royal Canadian Mounted Police, as she headed for home, was brought into Quebec harbor after a warrant had been served for the non-delivery of goods in Montreal.

The warrant was taken out against the boat itself, but was served upon Captain Wilhelm Siegel, who was ordered to post bond of $12,000 before the vessel will be permitted to resume the voyage. Officials said the bond probably would be posted tomorrow.

The freighter, after receiving orders from Germany, left Sorol this afternoon without delivering her cargo of zinc oxide consigned to Montreal. Her clearance papers had been rescinded and she left the grain port against orders of Admiral Paulus, officer in charge of national revenue there.

HURRYING AWAY
YARMOUTH, N.S., Aug. 25 (P).—Leaving part of her intended pulpwood cargo on the dockside, the German freighter Helene left Yarmouth harbor hastily today after apparently receiving wireless instructions to put to sea.

Captain Gornels had told customs officials yesterday he did not intend to leave until tomorrow. He obtained clearance papers today.

Campbell Sets New Speedboat Record

After becoming the first man to drive a car at more than 300 miles an hour, Sir Malcolm Campbell turned his attention to the water. He is seen above in his new racing craft, in which he set a new world's record of 141 miles per hour on Coniston Lake. His craft was powered by the engine used by Sir Henry Seagrave nine years ago when he was killed while attempting to set a new world's record.

POLAND HAS LITTLE HOPE

Acts of Violence Against Poles Continue—Dig Trenches in Parks

WARSAW, Aug. 25 (P).—Polish volunteers, heartened by signing of a mutual assistance pact with Great Britain, dug air raid trenches in Warsaw's parks and public squares tonight, as a feeling grew that peace now hangs by the slightest of threads.

Signings of the British-Polish military alliance, Polish circles said, was "an answer" to the Soviet-German non-aggression pact.

Observers here, attempting to gauge the effect of the new pact on the rapidly-changing political history of Europe, believed it would be a decisive element in answering the question of whether or not Europe was to be plunged into war.

For the first time no German newspaper correspondents were at the Foreign Office press conference when announcement of the British-Polish alliance was made. All were understood to have returned to Germany.

High Polish circles, however, reported "terror" continued in Danzig and in Polish territory along the border between Danzig and Polish Silesia.

INSURRECTION IS SPEEDILY ENDED

Nation-Wide "State of Siege" Declared for One Month in Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 25 (P).—Chile's Popular Front Government, backed by thousands of volunteer workers, today quickly put down an insurrection in the army.

With quiet restored and the leaders of the revolution arrested or dispersed, President Pedro Aguirre Corda decreed a nation-wide state of siege—the equivalent of martial law—for one month.

The Ministry of the Interior issued a communique praising the people's calm in the face of the uprising. Popular Front leaders congratulated the workers for their support. Thousands had volunteered to defend the President and Government buildings.

Women of B.C. Are Ready to Do Their Bit in Case of War

Service Club Organizations Training for Non-Combatant Duties and Home Service on Pacific Coast—Victoria Unit Numbers 130

EIGHT hundred members of the British Columbia Women's Service Club in four centres—Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster and Port Moody—are eager to do their "bit" for Canada in case of war, Mrs. Norman R. Kennedy, president of the organization, said yesterday.

The Victoria headquarters unit of 130 members has been in training for eight months, meeting twice a month for instruction in first aid work, signaling, elementary motor mechanics and anti-gas precautions, as well as the army foot drill.

Dominion Calling Up Volunteers to Increase Defence

Men Are to Be Taken From Non-Permanent Force To Aid Permanent Units to Man Coastal Batteries—Instructions Sent to Militia Headquarters—Orders From Ottawa

OTTAWA, Aug. 25 (P).—Canada marshalled her defence forces tonight in anticipation of a national emergency. Volunteers from the non-permanent militia were called to the colors to aid the small permanent force in manning coastal defences and guarding vulnerable points from possible sabotage.

The call for volunteers, issued by Defence Minister Ian Mackenzie, was not compulsory, he stressed, and was purely a precautionary step.

Earlier, the Defence Minister had ordered Royal Canadian Air Force units to be in readiness to move to war stations in various parts of the Dominion if required.

All leave for members of Canada's permanent defence forces was cancelled today as Mr. Mackenzie announced his department had complete plans in readiness for the protection of the security of the Canadian people from enemies, both without and within.

The military forces of Canada comprise slightly more than 50,000 men, and the Canadian Legion has offered to supply 60,000 war veterans for guard duty, particularly for protection of bridges, canals, factories, power plants and wharves, from sabotage.

CALL VOLUNTEERS

OTTAWA, Aug. 25 (P).—Defence Minister Ian Mackenzie announced tonight volunteers would be called to aid permanent units to man coastal batteries.

AMERICANS ARE READY TO SERVE

Division of Volunteers Under Organization in France for Over a Year

PARIS, Aug. 25 (P).—An American division for service in the French army in the event of war has been organized in France for over a year, its organizer said today.

In addition to the division, which would be under the command of Col. Charles Sweeney, American army reserve officer and organizer of volunteers in France at the outbreak of the Great War, there would be a volunteer flying corps.

Sweeney, who declared he had "more than enough" applications for a skeleton division which could be brought to the strength of 10,000 men "in no time" said the flying corps would be named in honor of Norman Prince, founder of the Lafayette Escadrille in the Great War.

Six Japanese Start Flight Of Good Will

TOKIO, Aug. 26 (P).—The twin-motored monoplane Nippon took off at 10:27 a.m. today (6:27 p.m., Friday, P.S.T.) for Nome, Alaska, on the first leg of a 35,000-mile goodwill flight around the world, including Berlin.

It carried a crew of six members of Takeo Ohara, chief of the aviation department of the newspaper Nishi Nishi, which is sponsoring the flight.

The projected route includes Vancouver, Seattle, Los Angeles, Kansas City, New York, Miami, and San Jose, Brazil.

LONDON AWAITS AMBASSADOR'S RETURN AFTER SEEING HITLER; FRANCE RUSHES WAR MEASURES

Coronation Chair Removed to Safe Place of Hiding

LONDON, Aug. 25 (P).—The 600-year-old Coronation Chair, in which King George VI was crowned, May 12, 1937, was removed from Westminster Abbey today, carefully crated, and taken out of London to an undisclosed hiding-place. The same precaution was taken during the Great War.

BERLIN CUTS OFF CONTACT

All German Communications Silenced for Seven Hours—Reports Meagre

BERLIN, Aug. 25 (P).—Germany shut herself off from the world for seven hours last night and early today as she made apparently last-minute preparations "to deal with Poland."

From 6:30 p.m. (8:30 a.m. M.S.T.) yesterday to 2 a.m. (6 p.m. Friday, M.S.T.) today, authorities shut off telephone, telegraph and cable communications with most of the world.

During this tense period Germany canceled her projected celebration at Tannenberg next Sunday, where Fuehrer Hitler was to make an important announcement.

Other rumors said that the Nuremberg party congress to start September 2 also had been canceled. These reports, however, were denied by the propaganda ministry.

GERMANY IS READY

Meanwhile military preparations along the Polish border went on through the night and in military circles the conviction was expressed that Germany is "ready for any action on the part of the Poles or anyone else."

The reason for the sudden closing of lines of communication was not apparent early today.

The shutdown came without

Storm Ends And Starts Bush Fires

NELSON, Aug. 25 (P).—Rains that have been looked for in a tinder-dry Nelson forest district for nearly two months finally fell today, bringing with them thunder, hail, lightning and wind storms throughout the district from Penticton east to the Crow's Nest. Old fires were given a good soaking, but dozens of lightning strikes were reported, setting innumerable small fires.

LATE BULLETINS

GERMANS TOLD TO LEAVE ENGLAND

LONDON, Aug. 26 (Saturday) (P).—The German Embassy today instructed all Germans in Great Britain to leave as soon as possible for home.

GERMAN TROOPS MOVE TO FRONTIER

GLEIWITZ, Aug. 25 (P).—German troops in the Gleiwitz area have been moving towards positions on the Polish border since early tonight. Up until 11:30 p.m., however, no crossing of the line had been reported, or firing heard. The road between this border town and Beuthen was mined at 9 p.m. at places where it is near Polish territory. Movable entanglements stand ready to be thrown across other highways.

RUSSIA APPROVES BULGARIA'S CLAIMS

SOFIA, Aug. 25 (P).—Deputy George Markoff, Vice-President of the National Assembly, said tonight that Russia had signified its full approval of Bulgaria's territorial claims in Rumania. Markoff, who returned today from Moscow with twenty-one other Deputies, told newspapermen Premier Molotov said "the Soviet finds Bulgaria's claims fully justified."

REPORT GERMAN PLANE SHOT DOWN

PARIS, Aug. 26 (Saturday) (P).—A Havas News Agency dispatch from Warsaw said today Polish anti-aircraft batteries at Gdynia shot down a German bomber late last night.

GREAT ACTIVITY REPORTED IN DANZIG

DANZIG, Aug. 25 (P).—Tremendous activity in Danzig tonight led anxious Free City citizens to believe that fateful decisions were being made in the critical German-Polish quarrel. Two strong contingents of Danzig soldiers watched the Polish border, but there was no sign of entry into Danzig by German troops. Semi-official Nazi sources announced that two Polish soldiers were shot near the Polish border, one being killed and the other wounded seriously.

CANADIANS HURRY FROM ENGLAND

LONDON, Aug. 25 (P).—Hundreds of Canadians jammed Canada House and British Columbia House long after closing hours tonight seeking help to get home as the fifth day of the current international crisis passed.

Britain Strengthens Alliance With Poland—British Envoy on Way to England—Hitler Meets Representatives of Nations—Daladier Calls for Sacrifices—New Peace Offer Suggested

Germany Reported Calling All Merchant Ships Home

BERLIN, Aug. 26 (Saturday) (P).—The British Ambassador to Germany, Neville Henderson, departed by special airplane at 8:20 a.m. (12:20 p.m., P.S.T.) today from Tempelhof Airdrome for London. The apparent purpose was to give a detailed personal report to the Foreign Office on his interview with Fuehrer Hitler yesterday.

LONDON, Aug. 25 (P).—Great Britain today strengthened its alliance with Poland in a direct answer to the German-Soviet non-aggression pact and watched a series of unexplained diplomatic moves that held a slight glimmer of hope in the war clouds that have settled over Europe. Sir Neville Henderson, Britain's Ambassador to Germany, noted for his blunt speech and forthright manner, will fly to London tomorrow with a report for Prime Minister Chamberlain as a result of a suddenly-arranged interview with Fuehrer Hitler.

Nature of the conversation with the Fuehrer or the report he would make could not be learned in London, but talk of a new peace offer resulted in diplomatic and political circles here.

BRINGING NEW HOPE

A source close to the Government, commenting on Sir Neville's flight, said:

"The news has brought a new hope that perhaps some move is afoot which may bring the deadlock and the accelerating drift toward disaster. It is clear that Henderson is bringing proposals or questions requiring an answer from Britain."

Official circles would not comment on the latest developments in the European crisis, and no hint was given of what passed between Mr. Chamberlain and Viscount Halifax, the Foreign Secretary, during a lengthy interview tonight.

Hitler summoned the British, French, Italian and Japanese ambassadors one after another today soon after a complete break between Mr. Chamberlain and Viscount Halifax had stated that Poland had been given "another day."

If any peace plan was advanced, Government sources said, it must come from Hitler because Whitehall insisted Sir Neville did not seek the interview with the Fuehrer and had no fresh instructions.

FACT WITH POLAND

Earlier in the day Lord Halifax and the Polish ambassador, Count Edward Raczyński, signed a five-year Anglo-Polish treaty pledging each country to come to the other's assistance in the event of aggression. The treaty was regarded as a reply by Britain, France, Poland and their

GAS, WATER AND ROCKS IN FIGHT

Crowd Breaks Up Communists' Meeting—Routed By Police and Firemen

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Aug. 25 (P).—A yelling, jeering crowd of thousands broke up a meeting of Communists tonight, then was dispersed by a storm of tear gas and water from fire hoses manned by police and firemen.

The 100-odd persons who crowded a small room in the municipal auditorium, under the pledged protection of Mayor Maury Maverick, former member of Congress, fled through rear doors before volleys of rocks and the roar of the hoses, which repeatedly charged police.

Fifteen persons were injured, including spectators, policemen and firemen.

While denouncing Communism, Maverick had declared he would use all powers at his command to guarantee freedom of speech and public assembly to any group of citizens, and had placed more than twenty police in the vicinity of the auditorium.

The meeting was tense as Miss Elizabeth Brown, chairman, began to speak. Outside the building and yelling increased. The roar of a pumper fire engine in the basement added to the noise.

As powerful streams of water hit the meze outside rocks began hurling through glass windows into the meeting room.

MILITARY MISSIONS DEPART FROM RUSSIA

MOSCOW, Aug. 26 (P).—The British and French military missions left Moscow at 12:30 a.m. today (2:30 p.m. Friday, M.S.T.) by train for Leningrad, their staff talks with Russia ended by the Soviet-German Non-Aggression Pact.

The missions will travel homeward via Finland to avoid German territory.

Thousands Scurrying To Havens of Refuge All Through Europe

Human Wave Heading for Shores of England From Continental Resorts—Special Boats Commissioned to Carry Passengers Across Channel

LONDON, Aug. 25 (P).—Amid the ominous rumble of mechanized military convoys and the tramp of marching troops, thousands of peace-loving people urgently sought havens of refuge today from the threatened perils of war.

Throughout the length and breadth of Europe, scenes reminiscent of those of the last days of the outbreak of war in 1914 are being re-enacted. Men, women and children who only a few days ago were enjoying life at Continental resorts, suddenly have been sent scurrying homeward by land, sea and air.

IN SURGE OF WAVE

Returning from a motor trip through the European capitals, I was caught in the surge of a human wave heading for the shores of England.

At Calais, hotels were packed to the roof. Last night, many motorists slept in their parked cars. Similar reports came from other leading Channel ports.

At dawn, cars began to queue up the docks, awaiting the arrival of Channel steamships. Special boats were commissioned, but several hundred vehicles were still awaiting clearance when the boat carrying us nosed out into the Channel.

Smiles bespoke the unanimous feeling of joy and relief of the passengers in being aboard a British boat—Blighty—just below the horizon.

RELEASE OF FEELINGS

There was an understandable justification for this release of feeling amid sober anxiety. For all had become steeped in extreme pessimism, and the belief was widespread that war may come this week-end.

Fuehrer Hitler's ears must have been ringing steadily, judging by the bitter things said about him aboard ship.

"If he wants war, why let him have it. We've done everything possible to keep peace, but this can't go on forever," a returning business man declared. That fairly well summed up the majority attitude.

The Government official I interviewed in Berlin said: "We have had just about enough meddling on the part of Britain. It is time she kept her nose out of Germany's affairs and tried to look after her own. However, if Britain wants a showdown of arms, we are quite ready to give it to her."

DO NOT INQUIRE

A twenty-three-year-old German youth, when asked why Hitler wasn't willing to submit Germany's so-called grievances to settlement by conciliation, replied:

"We don't inquire into such matters. We believe that whatever our Fuehrer does is right and for the welfare of our Fatherland. If he commands us to fight we will do so."

That is the spirit abroad among the younger generation. As we passed through Germany, the hostility toward Britain became increasingly manifest, particularly among officials.

But few appeared aware of the imminent danger of war. They have been told by their controlled press that the Fuehrer will regain claims. It raises the question of the liberty and life of Poland.

Firmly he ruled out the possibility of a capitulation such as that which gave Czechoslovakia to Germany. Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet, meanwhile, conferred at the Foreign Ministry with the Soviet Ambassador, Jakob Surits, envoy of the nation whose new pact with Germany was branded by Daladier as increasing the "chances of aggression against the friends of France and against France herself."

Travelers reported at Basel, Switzerland, that the French cut pontoon bridges across the Rhine between France and Germany north of that border city. Permanent railroad bridges were mined and ready to be blown up at a moment's notice, those reports said.

DENONCES TREATY
A sharp definition of France's position was given in a resolution by the foreign affairs committee in the Chamber of Deputies, voted by all members except five Communists. "The foreign affairs committee, after examining the facts of the German-Soviet Treaty, judges it as contrary to the previous engagements between the Soviet Union and France," it said. "The committee denounces publicly the diplomatic act negotiated with Germany at the very moment when official conversations were in progress with Great Britain and France for the construction of a defensive peace bloc. The committee judges that this pact, called 'non-aggression', far from decreasing the dangers of war, only increases them."

"The pact in no manner affects the determination of France to remain faithful to her word—to resist aggression and to defend peace," the Foreign Minister anxiously waited for reports from Robert Coulondre, French Ambassador to Berlin, who was called into conference by Fuehrer Hitler this afternoon with the British, Italian and Japanese envoys.

PREMIER VISITS REFUGEE RANCH

Pattullo Has Busy Day at Pouce Coupe on Aerial Survey of North

POUCE COUPE, B.C., Aug. 25 (P).—Premier Pattullo, turning the first sod for the new $35,000 Provincial Government building here, today told a gathering of Pouce Coupe citizens that he is convinced that the Peace River block is on the verge of promising development.

He predicted that oil developments on the western edge of the block, in the vicinity of Hudson Hope, will have a vital effect on the future of the district.

The Premier spent a busy day here, visiting the Sudden refugee settlement at Gundy Ranch, where 150 Czech families are breaking in the first of 40,000 acres; lunching with the Pouce Coupe Board of Trade, and attending a meeting of the Dawson Creek Board in the evening.

The Premier's party, after spending a day and a half in the Peace River district, will resume its northern aerial survey on Saturday morning, leaving at 10 o'clock from Swan Lake, south of here. The party will lunch at Fort Nelson, B.C., arriving in Simpson, N.W.T., on the Mackenzie River, to spend the night.

POLAND WILLING SAYS ROOSEVELT

however, there was no indication at the State Department that Hitler intended replying to the President's appeal.

Tonight's message to Hitler was the fifth appeal for peace President Roosevelt addressed the German leader in less than one year, and was the second within twenty-four hours.

A State Department spokesman quoted the President as being highly gratified at the response from the Polish President. Of the three methods for settlement of the controversy which President Roosevelt suggested last night—direct negotiation, arbitration and conciliation—the Polish President selected two, direct negotiation or conciliation.

FAVORS ROOSEVELT

Indirectly President Roosevelt might be the conciliator when he said: "We consider likewise the method of conciliation through a third party, as disinterested and impartial as Your Excellency, to be a just and equitable method in the solution of controversies arising between nations."

The State Department spokesman recalled the White House statement last night that neither the President nor any American Government official was offering himself as the conciliator, and consequently there was no suggestion of involvement of this Government.

However, when the President's secretary, Stephen T. Early, was asked what would happen if the President were requested to be the conciliator, he said that bridge would be crossed when it was reached.

The President and his aides completed, during the day, comprehensive arrangements for bringing stranded Americans home if war actually develops.

OFFER ACCEPTED

WARSAW, Aug. 26 (Saturday) (P).—President Ignace Moscicki accepted today the conciliation suggestion of President Roosevelt, and agreed to refrain from hostilities provided that Germany also agreed to do so.

The following message of President Moscicki, expressing his consent, was cabled during the night from Warsaw to the White House: "His Excellency Franklin Delano Roosevelt, President of the United States of America."

"I highly appreciate the most important and noble message which Your Excellency was good enough to address to me."

"I would like to emphasize that the Polish Government always considers direct negotiation with Governments as the most appropriate method of solving difficulties which may arise between nations."

"We consider this method all the more fitting when employed between neighboring countries. It was with these principles that Poland concluded the pact of non-aggression with Germany and with Soviet Russia."

EQUITABLE METHOD

"We consider likewise the method of conciliation by a third power, as disinterested and impartial as Your Excellency, to be a just and equitable method in the solution of controversies arising between nations."

"While naturally wishing to avoid even the semblance of availing myself of this occasion to raise the point of issue, I nevertheless consider it my duty to point out that in this crisis it is not Poland who is proffering any place or demanding concessions from any other country."

"It is therefore only natural that Poland agrees to refrain from any positive act of hostility provided that the other power also agrees to refrain from any such act, direct or indirect."

"In concluding, may I express my ardent wish that Your Excellency's appeal for peace may contribute to a general appeasement which the peoples of the world so sorely need, to return once more to the blessed path of progress and civilization." "Ignace Moscicki."

FIJI TRADES WITH CANADA

Islands Sell Half of Sugar Crop to British Columbia Refineries

Hon. J. Barton, Colonial Secretary of the Fiji Islands, was one of the travelers arriving here yesterday morning on the Canadian-Australian liner Aorangi. He is accompanied by his family and will cross Canada en route to London.

Canada takes a large share of Fijian products, the distinguished traveler told newspapermen aboard the Aorangi after the ship docked. Fifty per cent of the sugar produced in the islands is purchased here.

Other exports from the islands include copra and gold. Bananas, the best on the Pacific, are finding considerable favor in America and Australia. The reason Canada does not take more bananas is to be found in the lack of refrigeration space on ships plying from the South Pacific to the British Columbia Coast.

MUSICAL DESERT
Without the Australian Broadcasting Commission, Australia would be a musical desert, Professor G. S. Bell, conductor of the Scottish Symphony Orchestra, who arrived here from "down under" on the Aorangi yesterday, told ship reporters. For three months, the professor was engaged in broadcasting in Australia, and is now on his way to Glasgow, accompanied by Mrs. Bell.

Musical music favored by the A.B.C. and the Australian people is principally of the classic order. Australians demand high-class music far and abroad, it is expensive, prominent artists from Europe and America have been engaged from time to time by the A.B.C. to broadcast on its programmes.

STRONG FOR EMPIRE
Arriving from Australia yesterday on the way to the United States, where he will study state methods, James M. Derrin, chairman of the board of directors of Kerrin Brothers, Limited, operators of a chain of grocery stores in Australia, stated that Australia was wholly for Britain in the present crisis. The country is unified and labor is loyal, he said. The appointment of the Duke of Kent as Governor-General of the Commonwealth will be a big factor in the creation of a stronger Empire spirit in Australia than has existed heretofore.

Destroyers Will Visit Vancouver Early Next Week

CANADA'S destroyers are at present at their regular stations, Esquimalt Harbor, where they will remain until Monday next, when the Ottawa, Fraser, Restigouche and St. Laurent will sail for Vancouver on a cruise around the Strait of Georgia.

terday. He arrived on the Aorangi, and while the liner was alongside the local dock, Mr. Craigie was entertained by Victoria single-tax supporters.

FLYERS PLAN LONG FLIGHT

Japanese Due to Start Yesterday—Will Attempt Round World Trip

On a world flight, two of Japan's crack civilian flyers, with two mechanics and a newspaper correspondent aboard, were to take off from Tokyo yesterday on a globe-circling flight in a giant monoplane built especially for the trip. The flight is being sponsored by the Japanese newspapers Osaka Mainichi and Tokyo Nichi-Nichi. It is the first world-girdling flight ever attempted by Japanese aviators.

The flyers are Sumitohi Nakao, chief pilot, and Shigeo Yoshida, assistant pilot. Taken Ohara, veteran journalist, is in command of all arrangements pertaining to the trip. It is said to be a good-will visit to thirty countries.

The plane is a two-motored transport type and was manufactured by the Mitsubishi Heavy Industries, Limited. It was to hop from Tokyo to Hokkaido, Nemura, and then to Nome, Alaska, where it was to arrive today. The next stop is to be White Horse, Yukon Territory. From there it will head for Seattle, Oakland and San Francisco. The rest of the projected tour of the United States will include stops at Los Angeles, Kansas City, New York and Miami. From the latter place the plane will visit San Jose, Costa Rica, Guayaquil, Ecuador, Santiago, Mendoza, Berlin, Rome, Bagdad, Jodpur, Bangkok, Taihoku, and back to Tokyo.

SEALING CAMERAS
Good-will flight or not, it is understood the United States War Department has issued orders for any cameras of the flyers to be sealed when they arrive at Nome, Alaska, to start their tour of the United States. The seals must not be broken, either during the time the visiting airmen are in or over the United States. Personnel of two United States army planes which flew north to Fairbanks last week are supposed to carry out the War Department's instructions.

United States army stations in Alaska and in the United States proper will co-operate with the Japanese airmen, who are commercial flyers, in providing weather reports, and radio communications.

SHIP FAILED TO CALL

SOUTHAMPTON, Aug. 25 (CP)—The Hamburg-America liner Hansa failed to appear today, and passengers waiting on a tender to embark for New York returned here. The 22,000-ton liner left Hamburg yesterday and was expected to call at Cowes Road. After waiting two hours without receiving replies to its wireless messages, the tender turned back.

HON. DR. WEIR TO TOUR NORTH

Minister of Education to Examine School, Hospitals And Health Services

With health, hospitals and school matters requiring attention in response to requests from the Peace River area, Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir will leave for the North on Sunday, via Vancouver and Edmonton, for a two weeks' tour of Northern centres. Requests for extensive Provincial aid in the construction of hospital accommodation at several points in the North are part of the reasons for the journey, Dr. Weir said. The Minister of Education will also inspect units of the Peace River consolidated school system, where additional health, recreation and other services have been launched by the Province in the last few years. The area is being treated as a test of policies which may have wider application, if successful.

Dr. Weir will go by train to Edmonton, and fly in to the Peace River block to save time.

ROME BELIEVES PEACE TO COME

The Government determined to conserve gasoline for possible war use, imposed a new tax of nearly 40 per cent, raising the price to about 95 cents a gallon. This is expected to eliminate pleasure motoring in Italy.

A new law was announced on coffee and coffee substitutes. The figure was not revealed, but it was expected to raise the retail price of coffee from about 85 cents a pound to well over $1.00.

Italy has been short on coffee, and the tax apparently is intended to conserve most of it for the troops.

CALLS MORE MEN
ROME, Aug. 25 (AP)—Premier Mussolini called up approximately 500,000 more men today to put his fighting forces on a war footing. The call was estimated unofficially to give Italy a fighting force of about 1,700,000 men. Expert estimates placed the navy personnel at about 60,000 men, and the air force at 40,000 with 35,000 millionaires called up, in addition to six classes of army troops numbering 1,500,000 to 1,600,000 men.

However, if the two classes of 1901 and 1912, supposed to have been mobilized this month, should be kept under arms, the total of men in service would be only slightly less than 2,000,000.

The Government today increased the price of gasoline by approximately 40 per cent, by a decree designed to conserve it for possible war use.

The classes of 1903 and 1913 were supposed to be released by September 3. This was taken in foreign circles at Rome to mean Mussolini did not expect war to break out this week-end, at least.

It due withheld any normal sign of his reaction to President Roosevelt's suggestion for a peace proposal, which King Victor Emmanuel referred to the Premier.

Virginia Gayda, the authoritative editor of Il Giornale d'Italia, said Mr. Roosevelt and Prime Minister Chamberlain were trying to throw the blame for Europe's plight on Germany. The press took particular exception to Mr. Roosevelt for speaking in the name of the American people, and to Mr. Chamberlain's attempt "to interpret the desire of all humanity."

Both Italian and French circles professed to know nothing of a reported trip to Rome by Pierre Laval, former French Premier, who negotiated the 1935 settlements of French-Italian problems, which was scrapped by Mussolini last fall.

The French in Rome indicated they were scarcely in a mood to make a deal with Italy under present circumstances. They said, however, the Italian Foreign Minister, Count Galeazzo Ciano, suggested that Paris persuade Poland to accede to Germany's demands. But if he did, they insisted, the ambassador rejected the idea.

BIRTHS REACH HIGHEST TOTAL

Jubilee Hospital Directors in Session Last Night Receive Reports

A new high record in births was made at the Jubilee Hospital last month, forty-five being registered. The figures were included in the statistical report read at the monthly meeting of the board of directors, held at the hospital last night, S. J. Drake presiding in the absence of the president, Edwin Tomalin.

Total number of admissions during the month was 457; the average daily number of patients was 251, showing an increase over the corresponding month last year.

A commentary on the effect of the recent period of hot weather was seen in the statement that ten tons of ice was supplied by the hospital's own plant during this period. In addition, the plant maintained the brine refrigeration system used for preserving moderate temperatures in the wards.

Additions to the hospital equipment during July included two vacuum cleaners, the gift of the Women's Auxiliary.

OTTAWA CABINET WAITS FOR NEWS

Session Held at Capital During Afternoon but No Announcements Made Public

OTTAWA, Aug. 25 (CP)—Members of the Dominion Cabinet were waiting tonight, calmly but anxiously, for news that would tell them whether or not they must take on the grave responsibilities war will bring.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King called his ministers to meet in Cabinet council at 3 o'clock. There was a full attendance, but the meeting lasted less than two hours and no announcements were made.

It was understood the ministers studied reports since their meeting yesterday and reported on progress of their preparations to take possible emergency action.

MUCH WORK TO DO

It was explained by his secretary that Mr. Mackenzie King had much work to go over with his colleagues in the external affairs department, and that, in any event, he preferred not to be questioned until he was ready to issue an official statement.

It was not expected there would be any further meeting of Cabinet council tonight unless events in Europe took a new and startling turn.

The Prime Minister returned to his summer home near here, where he is kept constantly informed. His ministers were all standing by ready for a call to council at a moment's notice.

CAMERAS STOLEN

VANCOUVER, Aug. 25 (CP)—Burglars who entered an East End district drug store last night through a ten-inch hole cut in the floor escaped with cameras valued at $500, and other articles.

NOTHING NEW

The very irate golfer stalked up to the woman who was surrounded by her offspring.

"You must take your children away from here, madam," he said; "this is no place for them."

"Don't you worry," replied the woman pleasantly. "They can't hear nothing new." Their father was a sergeant-major.

A FATEFUL WEEK-END

Great Britain, yesterday, signed the mutual assistance pact with Poland. The arrangements for this pact were made months ago, and even if it had not been signed, Great Britain, as Mr. Chamberlain told Parliament on Thursday, was prepared to fulfill the pledge given in the spoken word. It is now a written guarantee, so there can be no further illusion in Germany regarding the British purpose, the more particularly because the pact has been made binding at this juncture.

Yesterday's developments in the European situation brought little hope of a peaceful solution, for Herr Hitler has remained deaf to appeals for a settlement of the Polish issue by conciliatory methods, appeals that have come from the King of the Belgians, His Holiness the Pope, and President Roosevelt. Premier Daladier of France, in a broadcast, has voiced the oneness of the attitude of his country with Great Britain in the present crisis. There is a report that Japan's attitude is aloofness. Her friendship with Germany is weakening following the latter country's non-aggression pact with Russia. Berlin continues to exercise diplomatic pressure on such countries as Hungary, Roumania and Turkey. The former two Germany hopes will sign a non-aggression pact, and the effort with Turkey is to detach that country from her mutual assistance agreement with Great Britain and France.

Yesterday, Sir Neville Henderson, the British Ambassador at Berlin, was summoned to an interview with Herr Hitler. What transpired was not made public, but Sir Neville immediately decided to fly to London and lay before Lord Halifax, the Foreign Secretary, the outcome of the conversation, which, some observers say, set out proposals that the German Chancellor has put forward as a basis for discussion. There is, undoubtedly, significance in the fact that the British Ambassador to Berlin is making a hurried journey to London, for it is accompanied by the announcement that he will return to the German capital, a happening that would not take place were war to ensue immediately. It would follow that Germany has postponed whatever action she contemplates against Poland, pending the result of Sir Neville's mission. In addition to seeing the British Ambassador, Herr Hitler also had conversations with the Ambassadors of other Powers, but it is not known if he made the same communications to them as to Sir Neville Henderson.

There is no cessation in the campaign of vilification that the German Press has been conducting to attempt to place Poland in the worst possible light. On the other hand, both Mr. Neville Chamberlain and M. Daladier have laid stress on the great restraint that Poland has shown, and continues to show, under the most provocative circumstances. Poland has been advised by her non-aggression allies to continue in this attitude and not give her potential enemy any overt excuse for the invasion of her territory.

For the moment Germany is engaged in precipitating a war of nerves. Possibly she thinks that the non-aggression Powers have less fortitude than the German people. She has issued an order for German ships to leave British ports. Telephonic communication between Berlin and the capitals of France and Great Britain, and some other European countries, has been discontinued. A German cruiser berthed in Danzig yesterday. The celebration of the victory of Tannenberg, twenty-five years ago, which was to have been held tomorrow, and at which Herr Hitler was to have broadcast his viewpoint, has been cancelled.

The propaganda within Germany is rather different to that employed by Herr Goebbels in the attempt to frighten other Powers. The Germans are told only what is regarded as favorable to the attitude of their Government, and the possibility is that they have been persuaded that any campaign which may be engineered against Poland will be nothing more than a punitive expedition, as an outcome of which, after a few weeks at most, Danzig, the Corridor and Upper Silesia will be a part of the Reich, with a German protectorate established over what is left of Poland.

Today should bring a development that will either precipitate war or postpone it temporarily. If not today, then at some hour during the week-end. Herr Hitler must have brought his period of tension almost to the snapping point. Great Britain is alert and proceeding rapidly with her war preparations. France is doing the same. Both countries are resigned to the possibility that war may be the outcome of this latest crisis. Poland, which would face immediate invasion in the case of hostilities, is ready to meet that eventuality if no peaceful solution is found for the crisis which Germany has engineered as a part of her continuing plan for territorial expansion.

EARLY HISTORY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Most British Columbians are more or less interested in the story of their Province, particularly the parts of it dealing with the colorful early days—the era of the explorers and the fur traders, the Spanish occupation and the migration of the gold-seekers following discovery of the yellow metal in the river channels of Central British Columbia. How much of the stories we believe in are true is another story. Word-of-mouth historians are liable to err, although when set down by some contemporary in type, there is a tendency to take them for granted ever after. There is hardly any excuse, however, for giving this or that person or thing and that group credit for something which he or they did not achieve or carry out when the facts can readily be ascertained.

Of course, correcting this or that story in the life of a province is not everybody's business, but many are inclined to take the greater part of what is heard and read for granted. If this were not so, it might have been learned long ago that the accomplishment of certain important things, commonly credited to certain individuals and groups, did not happen according to general belief. Take the building of the Cariboo Road, for instance. To reach the "diggings" on the upper reaches of the Fraser River, easily available to the "fifty-niners," it has been a general impression for ever so long that Governor James Douglas put the Royal Engineers to work building the road; and it was said that part of it which clung to the cliffs along the side of the turbulent river was a monument to their resourcefulness and engineering ability.

Most of us shared that belief, and so a fine body of men were given credit for achieving something they would have been the last to take credit for under the circumstances. The real story of the building of the wagon-road through the canyon of the Fraser and its completion is, according to J. B. Leighton, Cariboo historian, quite different history. He states that the Royal Engineers did not construct the road through the Fraser canyon. Governor Douglas did, he said, in a recent statement, send a party of young sappers and miners, as the Royal Engineers were first called, on their arrival at New Westminster in 1859, to start road building.

The road party, under Captain Grant, started the work at Yale in June, 1862. After completing six miles the work was stopped. Mr. Leighton says it was too expensive, as the men knew nothing of blasting. Then the Government called for tenders for the work, and the next six miles to Chapman's Bar was let to T. Spence, of Spence's Bridge fame. He was also the successful tenderer for the next twelve miles to Boston Bar. From Boston Bar to Lytton, thirty-one miles, was the next section let by contract, while the last forty-eight miles to connect with the Lillooet Road at Clinton was also done by contract. Out of a total mileage of 136 miles from Yale to Clinton, the Royal Engineers built the first six miles. The road was completed in 1863.

BANK OF MONTREAL PRESIDENT

One of the most important positions in the country's financial life has fallen to Mr. H. M. Redpath Drummond in his appointment as president of the Bank of Montreal, following the death of Sir Charles Gordon. He has been for a long time prominent in both business and financial circles, is widely known for his sound judgment, his fair-mindedness and high executive abilities. He is following in the footsteps of his father, the late Sir George A. Drummond, who, in 1882, was a director of the Bank of Montreal, and, in 1905, became its president, a position which he occupied until his death in 1910.

As well as being one of Canada's foremost business and financial men, the new president of the bank is a well-known humanitarian, and, in Montreal particularly, has become highly popular in this respect. He is a life-governor of the Western Division of the General Hospital, a governor of the Alexandra Hospital, and an officer of the Canadian Red Cross, Quebec Division. His interests are many, and included in them is the appreciation and encouragement he has given to art, in recognition of which he is a member of the Montreal Art Association and a member of the Council of the Montreal Art Gallery. He takes a keen interest in sports, and in his younger days was well known as an athlete. His association with the Bank of Montreal has extended over twenty-seven years. He was first vice-president for twelve years before being elected to the presidency. In his business career, The Montreal Star says: "He has revealed keen acumen, tact and foresight that have won him widespread confidence."

A Social Credit organizer in Quebec says that the Herriede-Aberhart party will carry thirty seats in that Province in the Dominion election. There is about as much chance of that as there is of a national dividend.

Durable goods: the words meet the eye in almost any economic report. Consumer goods to this value, durable goods at that level, and so on. What are the durable goods in mankind, in human nature? For it is only in his human relations that man will make much change in the world about him, the world that he knows and has to deal with day by day.

Dependability? All through the entire range of human society dependability may be found, selling at a premium. It is a quiet, unobtrusive quality, not much advertised or advertised, but worth its weight in gold wherever it is to be found. The world places dependable people in charge of those tasks which cannot be safely neglected without loss of damage to the human family. Day after day, in all stations, in all callings of life, dependable people are counted on, leaned on, made use of, but very seldom thanked. Like so many other things, dependability is its own reward.

Sincerity? Sincerity also has a high market value. It is weighed most often by the effects of its absence. Insincerities in little and great affairs have cost mankind much, contributed to the general pool of misunderstanding, a large and growing reservoir which mirrors with a darkened surface. Sincerity, too, sells at a premium, the higher because it is comparatively rare. Much that is foolish; much that is waste; much that mankind could well do without, must be eliminated if all people were sincere.

Good humor? We could not do without it. It is the oil that lubricates all human relations; smoothing the rough places; encouraging the good; and turning the bad into good. It is a quality that is in demand in all human relations, in all human activities, in all human endeavors. Good humor takes people at their best, playing on the right side of the human heart, to accomplish a host of unrecorded wonders.

Tolerance? How far would the world of man get without it? How far has mankind advanced in times such as these when intolerance grows like an ugly weed in the field of man's brightest achievements? It is a simple quality. The ability to live, in the manner which seems reasonable to them. The domestic, parochial, national and international busbodies have made a hash of tolerance. Yet it is one of the durable goods that mankind cannot do without. It is a quality that must be recognized, if ever it is to flower again.

Optimism? The word has lost nearly all of its meaning; but it has meaning, once. All the way through life man is exposed to the uncertainty which attends the unpredictable, where tomorrow's circumstances and tomorrow's decisions will apply. Optimism is another of the durable goods necessary to the human family. Without it, who would work or plan; spend or save; or take any part whatever in the life of the world? It is, at its best, a discriminating quality, able to hope—and while there is life there's hope.

Quality? Good value in human relations, that. The guarantee that the work of the hand, the work of the mind, or the work of the spirit will stand up to the tests they will have to meet. Thoroughness, a finished product with no hidden flaws, the best a man has to offer, that is quality, another of the durable goods needed for the protection of the human family if it is to continue to inhabit the earth as master of all other creatures.

Patience? Nothing of moment in life is achieved without it. It is another of the durable goods. Perseverance, likewise. Together they comprise the realization of the fact that there is a time and a season for everything, and that nothing worth doing may be easily done, and little worth gaining easily won. A journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step, says a Chinese adage; but it requires patience and perseverance to take the second step, the third, and so on until the final journey, the march of life itself, is finished.

There are durable goods in the world of mankind; goods that sell at a premium in any market; goods that to their fortunate possessors are worth more than all the gold in the world. There are other, and heavier durable goods in the economy of human relations. Faith, hope and charity, without which men would be as lesser animals, and love, the primal sunshine that glows for every man and woman from the cradle to the grave, if they will have it so.

These are the durable goods of humanity, as durable it may be as man himself, because always they spring up anew from the ashes of succeeding civilizations. History, through many ages, suggests it is so.

ORIENTAL IMMIGRATION

Sir,—With reference to the resolution passed by the Native Sons of Canada in connection with the "gentlemen's agreement" with Japan, the following may be of interest. In convention in July, 1938, the National Conservative Party passed this resolution: "That the Canadian Government should take effective measures for the exclusion of Orientals from Canada by strict enforcement of the existing statutes and regulations and by taking the necessary steps to secure rescission of the Lemieux agreement." The Lemieux agreement is the agreement under which Japanese enter Canada.

Later this resolution was endorsed in September last by the convention of the British Columbia Conservative Association. Later still a similar resolution was passed by the Liberal Association of British Columbia, and the British Columbia Legislature also went on record as being opposed to the immigration of any Japanese into the Province of British Columbia.

The Liberal Government in Ottawa has refused to adopt any measures to stop further immigration, and on April 3, 1939, Mr. Howard C. Green, M.P. (Conservative), pointed out to Prime Minister Mackenzie King that he had power under Section 38 of the Immigration Act to deal effectively with the situation, the enactment in question reading as follows: "The Governor-in-Council may by proclamation or order, whenever he deems it necessary or expedient . . . prohibit or limit in number for a stated period, or permanently, the landing in Canada of immigrants belonging to any nationality or race . . . by reason of any economic, industrial or other condition temporarily existing in Canada or because such immigrants are deemed unsuitable, having regard to the climatic, industrial, social, educational, labor or other conditions or requirements of Canada, or because such immigrants are deemed undesirable, owing to their peculiar customs, habits, modes of life and methods of holding property and because of their probable inability to become readily assimilated or to assume the duties and responsibilities of Canadian citizenship. . . ."

Mr. Green also on May 12 last suggested that an embargo should be placed on the shipment of war materials to aggressor nations, and particularly Japan, and he protested that a Canadian naval ship, H.M.C.S. Vancouver, had been broken up and the steel and scrap iron therefrom shipped to Japan.

Mr. Green stated "there should be an embargo against the shipment of war materials to Japan, for no other reason than that last September Japan was found by the League of Nations to be an aggressor nation, and Canada, as one of the family of nations, should see that such embargo is imposed."

EDUCATION

Sir,—Argument is now in progress about the source from which the cost of education should be drawn. All assume that the education in question is something holy, and that the offerings made to its public altar should be of the highest achievement. But in truth it is entirely material, and not worthy of any such worship. Great expense is incurred for science. The fully-educated man knows that this materialist life contains fallacies and contradicts itself from time to time. In agreement with this false-ness its practical applications produce less evil than good. Surely those who wish to obtain the mastery power given by this craft should themselves pay for the cult, since they expect to draw its dividends. None can deny that public funds should be used to teach reading and writing and to provide playgrounds. But science, now displayed before the eyes of all in the full fruitfulness of its highest achievement, ought to be magnificent enough to attract abundant funds without the aid of the tax collector. On the other hand, I am bound to admit that neglect of the necessary worship might bring on the wrath which crushed the Chinese.

"There are less than two souls, the beneficent and that which has power to work out the reverse" (Plato, Laws, 896E). Is it our fault that we are well in the clutches of the latter? Or is it that we are simply at a certain point in the conflict between the two? Perhaps there is not much that we can do about it, anyhow.

THE GERMAN-SOVIET PACT

Sir,—Two important points have not been sufficiently emphasized by the local papers on this new European treaty with vital relation to the Orient. Too stand implied in the Soviet-German Non-Aggression Pact.

1 The important details of their trade treaty, already signed—i.e. supplying of oil and other natural resources to Germany in return for manufactured goods.

2 Then it should be made clear what Great Britain and France could not agree to do, which Soviet Russia demanded—i.e. to force guarantees on Finland, Latvia and Estonia, which these countries had refused completely. We would give up to do this and have the same reason—necessity.

Treat for the Dog

After months and months of store cakes, our tobacconist friend jumped for joy when his better half announced that she intended to bake a large layer cake in honor of purchasing a new tire for the family jalopy. In due course the tobacconist arrived home at his Lake Hill estate after a busy day at the shop. On the kitchen table he saw a huge cake covered with icing at least an inch deep. While his wife was busy attending to the steak and onions, he experimentally hacked out a small slab of cake. She turned around and asked him if it was good. "Did you make this cake with your own little hands?" he queried. "Of course I did," she replied. "Then who the heck helped you lift it out of the oven?" he asked. . . . Speaking of cake reminds us of the kindergartners on our street. The teacher was endeavoring to explain the difference between sufficient and enough to her pupils. She asked little Willie, her brightest pupil, if he knew the answer. "Sure, teacher," he replied. "If mama gives me cake I get enough. If I help myself I get sufficient." —G.B.

History Repeats Itself!

Neville Chamberlain, now recovering from his recent sad experience with the Soviet Republic, might recall that famous speech, made by his father, at the Mansion House with reference to the Russian Government, during the South African War: "He who sups with the Devil must use a long spoon." This statement shook the Chancelleries of Europe and it was reported that Lord Salisbury spent many hours trying to explain the statement away.—W.I.P.

Anyone questioning the drawing power of night baseball in the major leagues should look over the statistics. Paid admissions to thirty-two games were 778,047, an average of 24,251 fans per game. . . . According to Culbertson

Many a contract is lost merely because the declarer feels that "with all those tricks in his hand" there is no chance of things going wrong. This, of course, always follows a superficial analysis but, surprisingly enough, even experts are guilty in this connection.

It took considerable restraint on South's part to pass to North's four heart bid, but actually, of course, the pass was eminently correct. South's three and one-half honor tricks hardly could be enough for a slam, in view of the fact that North's immediate jump to game denoted possession of more than two honor tricks.

Perhaps South went at the play with the feeling that, since he had thought wittily about a slam there was no great need for care at a mere game contract. Whatever his feeling, he found that some of the most "cold looking" hands can turn on their holders and bite them.

West opened the jack of clubs. Declarer won in his own hand, drew trumps in two leads, then cashed the club ace. He then led to the diamond ace and exited with his remaining diamond. East won and made a magnificent return—the device of spades! East had carefully observed declarer's tactics, and was quick to realize that the diamonds and clubs were stripped from the South hand as well as from dummy. If that were so, then West had started out with five diamonds and five clubs. He had shown two hearts, therefore could have held only one spade. If this were the spade ace and South had the king, it would do no good to lead the queen through the closed hand because declarer if he played correctly would not cover the first spade lead, and the blank ace would fall. This, however, would not be the worst thing that could happen. The really important point was that West might have the blank king, as he did.

It will be observed that if East had made the persuasive and "nor-three tricks to East's Q-J-10 of spades and these, in addition to the diamond already taken by the defenders, defeated the contract.

While East's play of the spade deuce deserved full credit, it could not have succeeded if declarer had been on his toes. There was nothing to gain by putting up the spade ace on the first lead of the suit and, as we have seen, there was a great deal to lose. If the spade suit broke 3-2, the contract would have been safe.

Buying Power in New York Mart Shows Recovery

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—A glimmer of hope that a general European war would be averted brought buying power into the stock market today and lifted leaders 1 to more than 4 points.

Prices hit best levels in a four-hour upward flurry. The push was fast for a few minutes, but the list reverted to the leading pace which characterized the greater part of the proceedings and advances, in most cases, were trimmed moderately at the close.

At that, the Associated Press average of sixty leading stocks rose 1 full point at 4:13, the largest daily upturn since July 17. Transfers amounted to 693,374 shares, against 1,293,660 yesterday.

Trends were slightly mixed in the forenoon, but began to tilt forward when President Roosevelt, at his press gathering, said war was not certain and indicated a special session of Congress was hardly imminent.

Unrest was calmed also by the President's peace plans to Germany and Poland, reports Moscow was pressing Warsaw to get together with the Nazis and unofficial word from Berlin that Hitler would give the Poles another "day of grace."

Heavy troop concentrations continued, however, and financial quarters were none too sure an overseas explosion would be prevented. Brokers pointed out, though, the speculators and investors recently had exhibited extreme reluctance to dump holdings, war or no war.

Tending to complicate the market picture was the action of the British in pulling the support plug from sterling and permitting that monetary unit to slump from $4.68 1/8 to $4.38, a new low since the middle of 1933. The pound came back about 10 cents from the bottom in later dealings.

The war scare eased its grip on the bond market today sufficiently to permit an irregular recovery in prices. The market late in the session used the Berlin reports pointing to peace parleys to generate a brisk rally.

The reversal brought the most rapid recovery to United States Treasuries, in which there were a large number of net gains running from 2-3/8 to 29-3/8 of a point at the close.

Representative foreign issues, at one time down 2 to more than 6 points, struggled for a better footing on the peace rumors and some managed to close with actual gains of a point or more. German, Australian, Brisbane still lagged at the end.

HOCKING IN NET FINALS

Victorian to Meet Jack Brawn for Gulf Islands Tennis Title

(Special to The Colonist)
GANGES, Aug. 25.—(P)—"Bud" Hocking and Jack Brawn, Vancouver, will meet tomorrow for the men's singles honors in the annual Gulf Islands tennis championships as a result of today's victories. The Victorian put out Eric McCallum in straight sets to reach the semi-finals, 6-4, 6-2, and then trimmed Hank Bennett, Victoria junior star, rather easily, 6-1, 6-1. Brawn eliminated a townmate in Dunc Williams, 6-0, 6-2, in the other semi-final match. Mrs. H. Haggart, Vancouver, will clash with Mrs. E. Martin for the women's crown. The former ousted Miss Sheila Halley in the semi-finals, 6-0, 6-1, while Mrs. Martin put out Miss D. Wood without much trouble, 6-3, 6-1.

A few semi-finals in other divisions and all the finals will be staged tomorrow, and a big gallery is expected to be on hand. The tennis produced here today was of high calibre. The weather was a little cooler than usual, although the sun was shining.

$10,000 Race Will Be Staged Today At Saratoga Park

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y., Aug. 25 (P).—The wise men at Old Saratoga track have their glasses trained on tomorrow's Grand Union Hotel Stakes, consistent barometer for next year's Kentucky Derby champion.

Their overnight fancy appeared to centre in two entries of Colonel Edward R. Bradley, of Kentucky, who looked to the thirty-seventh running of the $10,000 feature for two-year-olds for a tip-off in the hunt for the fifth Derby winner.

Boy Angier and Bimblech will carry the Colonel's hopes in the six-furlong Grand Union, won in the past by such outstanding runners as Man o' War, Sun Briar, Fighting Fox and Jamestown.

Screen Star Is Mobbed

each home is paying for its municipal supervision we are heading for bankruptcy, and we've had it amply demonstrated in the cities and municipalities that have attempted the so-called single tax system.

"The third objection is obvious: 'Who pays the piper calls the tune.' Isn't that principle out-moded in the Henry George system? The landowners are asked to pay all the taxes; are they also being asked to shape our educational policy?"

"Theirs not to reason why," theirs just to pay—or be dispossessed by ex parte proceedings. What a condition for the heirs of the Magna Carta!"

R. E. COLLIS, R.R. 2, Duncan, B.C., August 23, 1939.

"HONOR THE TREE OF EMPIRE"
Sir,—It is said that comparisons are odious. "Let us not indulge." The ringing words flashed over the world by Prime Minister R. G. Menzies, of Australia, must give a thrill to every member of that concert of nations known as the British Empire, and quicken the pulses of the people of England who will have to bear the brunt of any European conflict in which our Empire is engaged.

It is not recognized as one of the outstanding statesmen of our day, but as the selected leader of the Australian people he shows courage and a true British spirit which is honor enough for anyone.

Through this medium a Canadian sends you greetings of consideration.

JOHN DOUGALL, 1322 Broad Street, Victoria, B.C., August 24, 1939.

HECTOR REID'S BRAVE DEED
Sir,—In May last your paper published a story telling how, in May, Hector Reid, sixteen of the British saved Albert Lamb, Old Lusk Road, from being gored to death by a bull.

It stated that Lamb, who had jumped inside a bull pen to retrieve a dropped flashlight, had been attacked and pinned to the ground by the bull, and that Hector Reid, who had entered the pen, beaten the bull back with a large stick, and saved his badly hurt friend from fatal injuries.

As one of the many admirers of Reid's brave deed, I felt that some recognition was due to him, and I accordingly started a subscription list for the purpose. With the kind and valued co-operation and assistance of Mr. Alfred T. Peatt, of Colwood, which is gratefully acknowledged, subscriptions were secured.

I reached a total of $215.00. This has been sent to Hector Reid as a practical tribute to him for his commendable act.

I take this opportunity to thank all those who made contributions to the fund, and to thank you for publishing this letter and thereby drawing public attention to a bravery shown by and the recognition that has been accorded this deserving young man.

CANADA CALLING UP VOLUNTEERS

from the non-permanent militia at once to bolster the permanent force in such special military duties as manning coastal defences and guarding "critical" vulnerable points.

A statement issued by the Minister made it clear that "no officer or man shall be under compulsion to report" for the duties considered necessary for national security at this time.

A complete statement follows:
1. Pursuant to a decision made at today's meeting of the Cabinet, certain portions of the Canadian militia are being called out for duty on a voluntary basis.

2. Immediately after the Cabinet meeting instructions were issued that officers commanding the militia units affected should be notified through the several military district headquarters.

3. It is considered that, in the light of the present situation, there are certain military duties for which the strength of the permanent force of Canada is insufficient and hence, it has been decided to place portions of the non-permanent active militia on service. The duties to be carried out include the manning of coastal defences and the guarding of certain vulnerable points.

PLACED ON SERVICE
4. The present action, is being taken under the authority of Section 63 of the Militia Act, which permits the Governor-in-Council to authorize the Minister of National Defence to place the militia, or portions of it, on service for any military duty other than drill or training.

5. The procedure under Section 63 differs from that under the well-known Section 64, which deals with calling out the militia for active service. Under Section 64 the call is compulsory on all members of the militia units named in the Order-in-Council invoking the act. Further, if Section 64 is invoked it is mandatory upon the Government to summon Parliament immediately, but this is not the case when Section 63 is invoked.

6. It is considered that the voluntary response to the call now being made on the militia will be adequate for the immediate purpose, and the Minister's instructions are definite that the response shall be entirely voluntary and that no officer or man shall be under compulsion to report.

Those who go on service in response to this call, will receive the pay and allowances of their rank.

City and District

The price of being famous was paid by Tyrone Power, screen star, when he stepped off a train in London and appeared at the entrance of a London theatre. He was immediately mobbed by a throng of admirers, who tore all the buttons off his clothes and even ripped a sleeve from his coat for souvenirs.

Acting Premier Away—Hon. John Hart crossed to the Mainland yesterday, in connection with departmental affairs. He will be back in the city on Tuesday, in time for the first Cabinet meeting of the week.

Valid on Beer—Elections in the Steveston division of Delta riding rejected a plebiscite on beer by the glass in licensed premises, by a vote of 221 to 163 ballots, provincial officers reported yesterday. The poll was held recently, and is now gazetted.

To Sit Here—A sitting of the Transport Commission, formerly the Railway Commissioners, will be held at the Courthouse in Victoria on Thursday, September 28. It was learned yesterday. No announcement has yet been made as to the list of applications for the hearing.

Rain Spots Fires—General rains in the Vancouver and Island forest district, and light showers in four other areas eased tension for provincial fire fighters in the bush yesterday. Departmental officials were hopeful that the rain will be extended for a few days. If it is the closure on logging may be lifted next week, it was believed.

To Examine Fares—The British Columbia Public Utilities Commission will inquire into fares on the municipal bus service between Victoria and West Vancouver, prior to authorizing a schedule of rates for the recently opened service, according to announcement made yesterday in The British Columbia Gazette. Meanwhile, established rates are continued, it was set out.

Suffers Fracture—Roy Crabbe, fourteen years old, of 1127 Balmoral Road, suffered a fractured leg while cycling on Cadonia Avenue on Thursday when he collided with a car driven by J. T. Hartley 1918 Birch Street, a city police report states. Mr. Hartley conveyed the boy to his home before he was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, where Dr. O. C. Lucas attended him.

Tenders Called—Three sets of tenders are being called by the Provincial Department of Public Works, including bids on two Government agency buildings and two miles of roadwork on the Trans-Canada Highway near Spence Bridge. Tenders are returnable at noon on Monday for the roadwork; on September 13 for a Government building at Stewart, and on September 18 for a Government building at Creston.

be in readiness to move to the stations they are to occupy in case of war. The announcement by Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Defence, tonight followed one earlier in the day that all leaves to members of Canada's permanent forces had been suspended. Seven air force units are ready to move.

The minister's announcement tonight follows:
"Warning has been given to the appropriate commands of the Royal Canadian Air Force that the several active service units are prepared to proceed to their stations in the event of an emergency."

SQUADRONS READY
"The squadrons in question are ready to move at short notice."
"The stations to be taken up are those selected as best suited for defence."

"In view of the extreme rapidity with which aircraft can be moved, there will be no delay once it has been decided that orders should be issued."

"Altogether, seven units are standing by ready to move, and another unit is capable of being organized quickly, with available service air-ground crew and personnel."

Regarding a report that seven Atlas bombers were en route from Trenton, Ont., to Portsmouth, N.S., the minister said: "This is a purely routine flight of a type that has been made on several occasions."

GUARDED STATEMENT
The minister declined to amplify his announcement as to the number of planes which would proceed to stations if ordered. With one exception, the statement refers to them as units rather than squadrons. The size of a squadron is generally nine planes.

No information was available as to points from which the units would be drawn except that an officer of the department said they were stationed all across Canada. Royal Air Force planes are stationed at many points, including Dartmouth, N.S.; Brockton, Ont.; Trenton, Ont.; Camp Borden, Ont.; Lac du Bonnet, Man.; Calgary; Regina; Jericho Beach, B.C.; and Patricia Bay, B.C.

The announcement tonight came after a day of great activity at defence headquarters. Canadian youths showed a keen desire to join the air force. It was learned at the department today some 25,000 applications to join the force are on file.

Mrs. Pothwaite—But surely you don't believe your husband's yarn that he's been fishing. I notice he didn't bring any fish back.

Mrs. Watterson—That's just what makes me think he has been fishing.

Little Change in Standings

Yorkshire Continues Drive Towards Another Cricket Crown

LONDON, Aug. 25 (P).—English county championship cricket standings showed little change today from a week ago. Yorkshire continued its drive for its twenty-first championship with a split in points in two matches, and Middlesex, in second place, lost a little ground.

In games completed today, the runners-up defeated Somerset by 225 runs; Sussex whipped Derbyshire by an innings and 39 runs; Warwickshire posted a 110-run victory over Gloucestershire; Worcestershire edged out Hampshire by 32 runs, and Lancashire triumphed over Northamptonshire by 95 runs.

Three games were finished yesterday. Yorkshire defeated Kent by an innings and 14 runs; Essex downed Nottinghamshire by seven wickets, and Surrey won over Glamorgan by six wickets.

Today's scores:
Middlesex, 211 and 350 runs for eight wickets, declared; Somerset, 106 and 239.
Worcestershire, 164 and 190; Hampshire, 191 and 131.
Lancashire, 195 and 188; Northamptonshire, 156 and 132.
Warwickshire, 165 and 247; Gloucestershire, 188 and 115.
Derbyshire, 227 and 157; Sussex, 423.

Worcestershire, 164 and 190; Hampshire, 191 and 131.
Lancashire, 195 and 188; Northamptonshire, 156 and 132.

PERSONAL ITEMS and SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

Young People Are Guests at Ball at Government House

Debutantes Make Their Formal Bow to Society at Largely-Attended Dance Last Evening—Gowns Worn Are Unusually Lovely

YOUNG society was genuinely a-flutter last evening, the occasion of the annual young people's ball given by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hamber at Government House. A charming group of girls, representative of the younger social set of Vancouver and Victoria, took the opportunity to make their formal debut and the young ladies made a charming picture in their white frocks, and carrying bouquets.

The guests, numbering over 500, were received by Mr. and Mrs. Hamber in the drawing-room, where zinnias, dahlias, chrysanthemums and gladioli were arranged with beautiful effect. Mrs. Hamber was lovely in a dress of finest embroidered white net, made very simply with a plain bodice, the skirt, fitted at the waist and hipline, flaring into graceful fullness at the hem. She wore a diamond tiara, necklace and bracelets.

In attendance upon Mrs. Hamber was her private secretary, Mrs. MacRae, who wore a becoming gown of blue net, bespangled with sequins. The aides in attendance included Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown, Captain W. H. Molson, Captain N.

Van der Vliet, Lieutenant-Colonel M. W. Turner, Lieutenant-Colonel Vincent McKenna, Lieutenant-Colonel Hugh Allan, Major R. L. Mitchell, Mr. Hew Paterson, Lieutenant-Commander C. E. Donaldson, Mr. A. M. D. Fairbairn and Mr. J. G. Cromack.

THE SETTING
A seven-piece orchestra played the dance music and responded to many encores for the popular numbers.

THE DEBUTANTES
The Victoria debutantes included the following:

Miss Cynthia Yarrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Yarrow, wore a charming frock of starched white net, made with a bouffant skirt and fitted strapless bodice edged at the top with pearl trimming. A net fichu gave softness to the shoulder line, and she carried a spray of white gladioli. She also wore pearl earrings and a pearl ring.

Miss Patricia Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Cole, Runnymede, wore a frock of white slipper satin, made on simple lines with a very full skirt. She carried a Victorian posy of lily of the valley and lilies.

Miss Diana Ker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Ker, Rockland Avenue, wore a white chiffon frock, the bodice being shirred and strapless, the full skirt hanging from a high waistline. White flowers composed her bouquet.

In a frock of embroidered organza was Miss Ann Ridewood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Ridewood, 505 Charles Street. The bodice featured a square neckline and puff sleeves, and the full skirt was trimmed with rows of narrow, fine Valenciennes lace. She wore a string of pearls and carried a bouquet of gardenias and lily of the valley.

Miss Joyce Winsby, daughter of Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. W. N. Winsby, was in a pretty frock of white chiffon over taffeta, made with a full skirt and strapless bodice, which was trimmed across the back with diamante. Her bouquet was in shades of white and pale pink.

Miss Joy Winsby, her cousin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Winsby, also wore a frock of white chiffon over taffeta, the shirred bodice made with narrow triple shoulder straps. The skirt was given a distinctive touch by the bustle effect at the back. Her Colonial bouquet was composed of lily of the valley, tiny Sweetheart roses and bouvardia.

Miss Priscilla Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Goldring, Bedford Place, wore a smart gown of white silk velvet, with a strapless bodice and full gored skirt. Round her neck hung a lei of gardenias, and she wore a gardenia in her hair.

Miss Rosemary Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Williams, Monterey Avenue, wore a charming frock of white starched net over taffeta, with a tight-fitting bodice and bouffant skirt encrusted with silver sequins. She carried a sheaf of white gladioli and lily of the valley and a coronet of the same flowers in her hair.

Finest cobweb lace was worn by Miss Elizabeth McCurray, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. R. W. McCurray, Regent's Place, and the full skirt was finely pleated at the sides. The bodice was made with a Sweetheart neckline, and a Victorian bouquet completed her attractive toilette. In her hair she wore a gardenia.

The gown worn by Miss Helen Woodcroft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Woodcroft, Windsor Road, was of heavy white silk crepe made on princess lines with a full, flared skirt, and the bodice with a diagonal neckline finished with a row of the material at one shoulder. She wore a white carnation in her hair and carried a bouquet of carnations.

Miss Mary Stephens, daughter of Engineer-Commander and Mrs. G. L. Stephens, Esquimalt, wore a lovely frock of white lace and net made with a very full skirt, the bodice with an off-the-shoulder neckline. Her bouquet was of roses, and she wore a gardenia in her hair.

Miss Barbara Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin R. M. Jackson, Cobble Hill, wore a frock of white georgette over taffeta, the bodice being finely shirred and the full, flared skirt being finely encrusted with diamante in a leaf design, which gave the effect of tiny dewdrops. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias, lily of the valley and gladioli, and wore a gardenia in her hair.

Miss Louise MacBride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan MacBride, Moss Street, wore a frock of white net over taffeta, the full, gathered bodice being made with narrow straps, and brief couleuvres sleeves accentuated an off-the-shoulder line. Pink rosebuds and gardenias, with a touch of blue asparagus, formed her Colonial bouquet, which was edged with white net to match her frock.

A frock of white net with a white velvet bodice was worn by Miss Margery Lindgren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Lindgren, Moss Street, the gown being ornamented with pearl trimming. In her hair she wore a white ribbon sword with gardenias, and she carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds and gardenias.

Miss Gwyneth Thomas, daughter of Mr. W. Llewellyn Thomas and the late Mrs. Thomas, Monterey Avenue, was in a pretty frock of white net, fashioned with a fitted bodice with narrow shoulder straps and a full skirt. Her Victorian posy consisted of pink carnations.

Fashioned on classic lines was the white chiffon frock worn by Miss Mary Pearce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Pearce, Oliver Street, and in her hair she wore a rosebud. Her Colonial bouquet was of Sweetheart roses.

Miss Ruth Horton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Horton, Shasta Place, was in a becoming frock of white net and lace, the skirt being of net and hanging in full, graceful lines from the waist. The bodice was of lace with narrow lace shoulder straps, and the neckline was square. She carried a Colonial bouquet of mixed flowers in pastel shades, and wore a white ostrich mount in her hair.

Very charming was the white net bouffant frock worn by Miss Caro Wylie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan H. Wylie, Wilmut Place. The skirt was trimmed with tiny, appliqued flowers in pastel shades, and over the bodice was worn an abbreviated net bolero. Her bouquet was composed of lily of the valley and rosebuds.

Miss Jane Holland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen C. Holland, Arbutus Road, Esquimalt, was in an attractive frock of white net, the very full skirt being made with appliqued bandings of lace, while rosettes of the lace were placed on the upper part of the skirt below the waistline. The bodice was shirred, and the puff sleeves were appliqued with lace medallions. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas, rosebuds and gardenias, and wore a single white blossom in her hair.

Miss Patsy Watson, daughter of Mrs. R. R. Watson, Hampshire Road, wore a frock of white satin and lace, made in alternating panels with a plain lace bodice. Her corsage bouquet was of deep red carnations.

Miss Pam Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Jones, wore a white chiffon frock over satin, and a triple strand of pearls round her neck. Her Victorian bouquet was of pink rosebuds and bouvardia, tied with pink satin ribbon.

Miss Audrey Eberts, daughter of Mrs. Harold Eberts, wore an attractive frock of starched white net, the bodice being encrusted with glittering sequins. The bodice was strapless and was finished at the top with a pleated net frill. She wore a gardenia in her hair and carried a Victorian bouquet of white gladioli, gardenias and rosebuds, set in a silver frill.

Annual Ball Will Be Held In October

Plans for the annual Hospital Ball on October 27 in the Empress Hotel were made at a joint meeting of the Senior and Junior Women's Auxiliaries of the Royal Jubilee Hospital yesterday afternoon at the Nurses' Home. Mrs. R. J. Jameson and Miss Vida Shandley, the two presidents, were appointed to act as general conveners; Mrs. E. Shepherd and Mrs. R. B. Wilson will have charge of the tickets. Mrs. J. D. Hunter and Mrs. N. Van der Vliet will be the bridge and mah jong conveners, and Mrs. B. A. Ross and Miss Claire Laybourn will have charge of the advertising.

Convent Alumnae Meeting to Hear Gifted Speakers

An interesting speaker at the Canadian Federation of Convent Alumnae Convention, to be held in Winnipeg between August 30 and September 1, will be Dr. Clementine Wien, from Barat College of the Sacred Heart, Lake Forest, Illinois, where she is a lecturer in philosophy.

Miss Wien was born in Milwaukee and, in spite of blindness which afflicted her in early youth, she took her Bachelor's and Master's degrees at Marquette University. She then majored in philosophy, taking her Ph.D. from the Institute of Medieval Studies of the University of Toronto. While in Toronto she taught philosophy and religion to the combined Colleges of Loretto and St. Joseph's. Miss Wien is much in demand as a speaker on philosophical and psychological subjects. A lecture on "Adult Education" will be given by Miss Katherine Thompson, B.A., Saint Francis Xavier University, Extension Department, Antigonish, Nova Scotia. Addresses will also be given by outstanding members of various religious orders. Sister St. Mary Edith is superior of St. Brigid's Convent, Toronto.

Will Celebrate Golden Jubilee Here Tomorrow

Celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary, Rev. and Mrs. F. L. Stephenson, Bee Street, will be at home to their friends from 3 to 6 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Their marriage took place at St. Mary's Church, Metcalfe, Mrs. Stephenson being the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Fisher, of "Ferncliffe," who were pioneers of the Metcalfe district. The officiating clergyman was the late Canon Beaudin. Mr. Stephenson, who was ordained just a few months prior to the wedding, has served more than fifty years in various dioceses of British Columbia, with the exception of the two and a half years he spent overseas as chaplain during the Great War, leaving here with the 103rd Battalion, and crossing to France with the 49th Edmonton Battalion.

Clubs-Societies

Daughters of England
Princess Margaret Rose Lodge, No. 40 "Juveniles," Daughters of England, held its monthly meeting in the S.O.E. Hall on Wednesday evening, with the president, Edna May Smith, in the chair. Two new members were initiated into the order. A good report was given in reference to the first fraternal visit to Vancouver. Lodge Vancouver entertained visiting members from Victoria at a banquet in the I.O.O.F. Hall upon arrival on Thursday evening, and at a picnic at Kildilano Beach on Friday. The next meeting will be held on September 27, after which a concert will be presented.

Mooseheart Meeting
Victoria Chapter, No. 25, Women of the Moose, will meet on Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the K. of P. Hall. After the meeting there will be a mock auction and house-keeping, for which the members will bring donations.

King's Daughters
The Victoria District King's Daughters will meet on Monday at 2:30 p.m. in the rest rooms, Hibben-Bone Block, Government Street. As this will be the first meeting following the summer vacation as large an attendance as possible is requested.

Weavers' Guild
Members of the Women's Institute Weavers' Guild have been requested to note that there will be no meeting of the guild on Monday.

First Rainfall In Many Weeks Recorded Here

Rainfall to a depth of .03 of an inch was recorded yesterday morning at the Dominion Meteorological Observatory on Gonzales Hill. This was the first rain to fall here for many weeks, and officials at the observatory said that more rain could be expected in the near future.

The maximum temperature yesterday was one degree lower than Thursday's, 63 degrees being registered at the observatory and 67 at the Victoria College. A minimum of 51 degrees was recorded in both places.

Reports from other parts of the Island indicated that the showers were only scattered over the district, and while the humidity was higher, a few hours of bright sunshine would lower it to the same dangerous level as last week. Today's forecast for Victoria and vicinity is "fresh, southerly winds, mostly fair and rather cool, possibly a light shower."

Social Activities and Notes of Personal Interest

Social and Personal Founder of Heather Day

A dinner party arranged by the parents of the debutantes invited to the ball at Government House last evening was a charming social event in the private dining suite of the Empress Hotel prior to the ball. Cocktails were served in the Princess Charlotte room before dinner, and the young people's dinner party was held in the Princess Louise dining-room. A number of the debutantes' parents had dinner in the Prince Albert room. The tables were arranged with exquisite bowls of Baby Royal dahlias set on pale green damask cloths and lighted by pale green candles in silver candelabra. The debutantes and their escorts included Misses Frances Bull, Patricia Cole, Ruth Horton, Barbara Jackson, Pam Jones, Gerry Lynch, Barbara Nation, Diana Ker, Elizabeth McMurray, Mary Stephens, Ann Ridewood, Rosemary Williams, Joyce Winsby, Helen Woodcroft, Priscilla Wright, Cynthia Yarrow, Joy Winsby, and Messrs. Sandy McCallum, Bill Ridewood, Sandy Thompson, Bill Tysoe, Bill Fortt, Fred Grubb, Archie Woods, Peter Lynch, Gerald Bradshaw, Michael Allan, Francis Gregory, J. Kennedy Smith, Jamie Stewart, Howard Miller, John Nation, George Gregory and Alastair Gillespie.

Sister Honored

Last evening, Mrs. R. Elva was hostess at a miscellaneous shower in honor of her sister, Miss Mavis Johnston, at the home of their mother, Mrs. R. A. Duncan, 326 Ker Avenue. Miss Johnston is to be married to Mr. Leslie Arthur Graham today. Maude and yellow formed the color scheme, which was carried out with gladioli in the reception rooms. Miss Johnston was presented with a corsage bouquet of rosebuds, and found waiting for her in the living-room a large blossom in which stood a box filled with pretty gifts and with a dainty nosegay tucked in at the top. Amusing games were enjoyed during the evening and a buffet supper was served. Mrs. Elva presided at the supper table, which was covered with a lace cloth and centred with a silver bowl of mauve and yellow gladioli. The guests were Mesdames McGregor, R. A. Duncan, William Hinchin, A. Snelling, J. P. Whitten, J. Shaw, H. Paton, R. Whitten, L. Harrison, R. Todd, J. Graham, G. Webb, C. Hardy, B. Duncan, A. Trace, J. McLean, O. Skinner, L. Boyce, G. Duncan, and Misses Phyllis Holmes and Esther Johnston.

Miscellaneous Shower

Miss Effie Robertson, a September bride-to-be, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower on Thursday evening, when Mrs. T. Watt and Mrs. R. P. Gray entertained at the former's home, Effingham Street. A corsage bouquet of carnations and swansonia was presented to the bride-to-be on her arrival; also one to Mrs. S. B. Watt. The gifts were concealed in a prettily decorated box in color tones of pink and mauve. After the opening of the various parcels, games were enjoyed, Miss Effie Robertson and Mrs. Roy Saunders being the winners. A buffet supper was served, and the invited guests were Mesdames S. B. Watt, Roy Saunders, J. Falconer, E. Kemp, H. Brown, J. Blair, N. Patterson, J. Boyle, J. Smith, W. Earnshaw, P. Stewart, W. Barrett, J. Denyer, Edmunds, John Watt, Joseph Watt, Frank Gray, Thomas Watt, F. Webb, A. Bain, Griffiths, J. Harris, Misses Mary Scott, Violet and Nancy Watt, and Jean Gray.

Gifts in Dais, Truck

Miss Betty Langdon, a bride-to-be, was complimented last evening when Mrs. J. R. Smith and Miss Dora Stocken entertained at a miscellaneous shower at Mrs. Smith's home on Wilson Street. The reception rooms were decorated with a profusion of late summer flowers. During the evening little Carol Anne Smith drew in a read and white dairy truck containing a huge "pound of butter" filled with the many gifts. Games were played and a buffet supper was served. The guests were Mesdames M. R. Tredwell, H. J. Langdon, W. Henry, Winston Elford, T. Halkett, W. S. Hamilton, S. Smith, C. Rutledge, L. Lane, J. Smith and Misses Kitty Freethy, Pat Smith, Milly Lally, Barbara Bradford, Freda Clark, Phyllis Holmes, Margaret McKinnon, Kelso Hamilton, Phyllis Irish, Violet Gandy, Mona Morgan, Louise Jones and Elsie Fryat.

"BOHEMIAN GIRL" WELL RECEIVED

Victoria Grand Opera Association Makes First of Fall Season Musical Presentations

The Victoria Grand Opera Association presented the first of its Fall season musical evenings at the Vancouver Avenue clubrooms last night. The selection performed was Act III of Balfe's ever popular opera, "The Bohemian Girl."

Patsy Swift, who took the role of Arline, delighted the audience with the charm of her voice and acting ability. George Farmer sang the role of Thaddeus, while Vivian McGahill sang the part of the spy queen. The bass role of Devilsho was played by Dave Oldham, and the comic role of Forester was sung by James A. McVie. Arthur Jackson played the role of the French officer, and the role of the servant, Wallie Marmo acted as the servant.

Basel Horstall was the musical director, and was largely responsible for an excellent performance. He also conducted the chorus, which included Ruth Shepherd, Winnie Price, Fred Oldham, Mayorie Barker, Phyllis Lockie, Walter Marmo, Don Donaldson, Victor Hadland and Bert Farley.

Scenic effects were in the hands of Dorothy Cook, and Marjorie Barker looked after the costuming. Following the performance, refreshments were served under the conversership of Willa Andrews. The evening concluded with dancing.

CLOSE CHATEAU AND PARK OF VERSAILLES

VERSAILLES, France, Aug. 25 (AP)—The great chateau and park of Versailles, where the treaty that ended the Great War was signed, was closed today in order that steps might be taken to protect it from air raids.

It was understood that the treasures of the historic reign of Louis XIV would be removed to a place of safekeeping.

The chateau is located only a short distance from one of France's large air fields.

Coast Indian Lore Provides Interest For British Girls

Tour of Provincial Archives and Museum, and Cricket Match and Tea at Brentwood Make Up Visitors' Programme

SIXTY-FIVE visiting British schoolgirls who went to the Legislative Buildings yesterday morning full of questions concerning British Columbia, returned enthusiastically at midday primed with all manner of information gathered in the course of a personally-conducted ninety-minute tour through the Archives and Natural History Museum. The afternoon was spent at Brentwood College, where the programme included a cricket match and tea.

At the Archives and Museum they were chiefly interested in things typical of the country, particularly Indian lore. At the Indian museum they showed curiosity in the papoose carrier, the models of Indian houses, totem poles and baskets. The museum of British Columbia native wild animals and birds also interested them greatly, the hummingbird, of which they had heard but never seen, being a primary attraction.

HISTORIC RELICS
In the Archives, where Dr. Kaye Lamb, Miss M. Wolfenden and Miss M. Holmes took charge of the various groups, the girls were particularly interested in letters of Captain Cook and Captain Vancouver, some very early maps of Victoria, the model of St. Beave, Queen Victoria's bonnet, and various historical documents concerning early navigation on this coast.

Souvenirs of the recent Royal visit included the Provincial Government's address to the King and Queen, the Admiralty chart of the voyage from Vancouver to Victoria, and the Canadian National Railways train orders governing the movements of the Royal trains from Vancouver to Boston Bay. A fifteen-minute tour of the Empress Hotel also was made.

CRICKET MATCH
The highlight of the afternoon programme at Brentwood was the cricket match between the visitors' team, captained by M. Turton, of Cheltenham Ladies' College, and a Vancouver Island scratch team captained by Mrs. H. A. Tomalin, of Victoria. The visitors won easily, scoring 67 for four wickets, against 71, all out.

The principal and Mrs. Martin Ellis welcomed the girls on arrival at Brentwood, assisted by Major Cuthbert Holmes, a member of the board and vice-chairman of the National Council of Education, Mr.

Albert Sullivan, chairman, and Mrs. Curtis Sampson, of the hospitality committee. At 4:15 everyone went down to the college for an informal tea, the visitors particularly enjoying the fine view of the bay and the boats.

Tea was conveyed by Mrs. Martin Ellis. Umpires of the cricket match were Messrs. F. A. Sparks, Drennan Hinkins and David Mills.

Today the girls will visit the Girl Guide camp at Sooke, leaving the bus depot at 2 o'clock and returning at 9 p.m. The only member of the staff accompanying them will be Miss Felicity Hobson.

Rumania Offers Pact to Hungary
BUCHAREST, Aug. 25 (AP)—Rumania offered a non-aggression pact to Hungary today, a move described by diplomats as a major step toward preserving the neutrality of South-eastern Europe in event of war.

It was learned the proposed treaty would guarantee rights and privileges of 1,500,000 Hungarians living in Transylvania, awarded to Rumania after the Great War.

RAIN CHEERS FIGHTERS
KAMLOOPS, B.C., Aug. 25 (CP)—Rain which fell over Interior British Columbia today cheered hundreds of fire fighters who have been battling forest fires almost continuously for several weeks. More rain is expected overnight.

A man from the Continent was visiting in America for the first time. Going along the highway he saw a sign. "Drive Slowly. This Means You."

Stopping in astonishment, he exclaimed: "Well, how did they know I was here?"

CHAPTER XLII
Was it fair to condemn Kim just because of Penelope and because of Roy's idly repeated gossip? Elizabeth realized painfully that it was not as if she and Penelope had a great affection for each other as some sisters had.

Then suddenly she knew that it was really nothing to do with Penelope, but that it was her own bitter jealousy which was driving her, and that it would have been the same no matter what other girl had once shared Kim's affection.

Was this how people always felt when they were in love? Somehow, she could not believe that any girl's woman's heart could ache so intolerably as hers was aching now, just as she found it impossible to believe it could be true when people said that love died, that a day always came when it no longer mattered, when the pain had gone and one merely felt a little ashamed to look back and remember.

She could not visualize a day when the sight of this man and the sound of his name could fail to stir her senses, when now the very strength of her love for him could make her cruel, could make her hate to know that he was suffering too.

And then suddenly, as the music stopped, she felt his arm tighten around her, and before she had time to protest, he had swept her out of the crowded room into the comparatively deserted foyer.

Dazed and breathless, she raised bewildered eyes to his face. "Don't quarrel with me, Elizabeth," Lawless said with deep intensity. "Tell me what I have done—you mean everything in the world to me—only tell me what I have done."

But before there was time for her to reply, or even to realize his words, Roy came helter-skelter after them.

"Hi, you stealing my partner?" he said. He gave Lawless a playful dig. "Haven't you got enough beautiful ladies of your own without sneaking mine?" And he dragged Elizabeth away.

"Like his cheek," he protested. "Though I can't blame him for trying to give Mrs. Desmond the slip." He laughed. "She and I nearly ended in a free fight. Hanged if I know why on earth she wanted to dance with me."

He looked comically down at Elizabeth. "Are you tired?" he asked quickly. "You're quite pale." "I think I'm always pale," Elizabeth said.

At breakfast the following morning there was no Penelope. (To Be Continued)

warning. An Associated Press dispatch being relayed to London was broken off in the middle.

But there was no censorship and the official German news agency continued to bring in reports from the rest of the world.

One explanation for closing down communications was that all available lines were needed for the military and important state calls.

While hope that a conflict might be avoided faded during the night, sleepless diplomatic observers were somewhat relieved when the ban on outgoing messages was lifted.

This slight relief admittedly had no substantial foundation. It was impossible to determine early today whether Germany had been in contact with their countries in the course of an anxious night.

The last fact known for certain was that Hitler had called in the British, French, Japanese and Italian ambassadors.

NOT ENCOURAGING
It was reported that for those who hoped peace might yet be saved, the interviews were "not very encouraging."

"Germany, it was reported, was still insisting on demands which amounted to virtual capitulation on the part of Poland."

And while holding firmly to her demands, Germany spread increasingly sensational reports of abuse of Germans and Czechs in Poland.

The official news agency carried many stories of German fugitives, particularly in Silesia, being killed, beaten and driven into hiding.

All German commercial ships in foreign ports were called home, and those here were not permitted to sail.

Commercial air lines ceased to operate. "Bad weather" was given as the reason.

Great crowds gathered in the Wilhelmplatz, in front of Hitler's residence. The Propaganda and Foreign Ministries were lighted as work there continued far into the night.

GREAT ACTIVITY
Government buildings were surrounded by cars of officials who were going to and fro throughout the night.

No nervousness appeared in the capital, but the radio boomed martial music constantly.

Danzig, the centre of the German-Polish controversy, was cut off telephonically.

There was no hint here of what was going on there. The last reports from the Free City described the arrival of the German cruiser Schleswig-Holstein for a naval ceremony.

Hope that peace efforts may be effective at the last moment were fading, but there still were rumors to the effect that Great Britain and other nations were urging acceptance of President Roosevelt's peace plan or some other compromise.

The decision to take drastic steps followed reports of more "atrocities" to German nationals in Poland and an alleged shooting by a Polish warship at a plane bringing the Reich's Secretary of State for the Interior, Wilhelm Stuckart, from Danzig to Berlin.

Stuckart arrived safely in Berlin and hastened to the Chancellery with a sharp complaint.

Officials were reported enraged, and there was great excitement in Government bureaux. Newspapers published sensational extras.

GERMANY ANNOYED
It was also reported that signature of the Polish-British mutual assistance pact in London today aroused the Chancellery and that an immediate and emphatic answer was decided upon.

At midnight the American embassy still bustled with activity. Americans were not ordered to leave, but officials urgently suggested that all do so.

The official news agency issued a denial that German troops had invaded Polish Silesia, late today.

It issued long dispatches, however, saying the intelligence service had established that half a dozen Polish divisions, set for an attack, are on the German border and up against the Danzig front.

The best possible information on the possibility of a compromise was that Germany required virtually complete Polish concessions on all disputed points.

One report reaching Berlin from the Silesian army headquarters stated that a Polish military plane had flown over the city of Mairisch-Ostrau.

It was a violation of the German border, which was not allowed to go unannounced by the German forces," the report stated cryptically. The German report did not state the plane's mission.

specifically that the plane had been fired upon. But it was admitted that the machine escaped.

German sources reported a strong concentration of Polish troops opposite Mairisch-Ostrau and in the vicinity of Witkowitz.

According to the German reports "it was necessary to reckon with the possibility of an assault at any moment."

The Mairisch-Ostrau district was regarded especially important to German strategists because it is a highly-developed industrial district.

In this region German authorities reported having captured and disarmed eight Polish soldiers who made a raid over the border.

German reports said that the railway station at Osterberg was jammed with refugees who had fled across the frontier.

Most of the fugitives came from the region of Krakow, it was reported.

Police Hunt for Slayer of Three

CARLYLE LAKE, Sask., Aug. 26 (CP)—Police were speeding toward the Carlyle Indian reserve, twelve miles north of here, early this morning, to organize a hunt for Nelson Samms, young reserve Indian, after Samms' thirty-five-year-old wife and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Slewack had been killed.

The three were shot with a .32 rifle. The shooting took place about midnight Friday.

"And have you music in the church?" I asked the rural squire. "Well, no," he said, "can't say we have."

"Just singin' by the choir."

What Today Means

"VIRGO"

If August 26 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m., and from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m., from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., and from 10:30 p.m. until midnight.

Before you confide any troubles to someone else be sure that they have not greater ones to contend with. It might be just as well for you to recall the saying that "one half of the world does not know how the other half lives." It might be a mistake to judge any person or substance of a material nature by their external appearance this day, for looks will be deceiving and optical illusions misleading. Diplomacy can accomplish much more than ruthless methods or harsh words. A few explanatory words are apt to prevent a vast amount of worrying, so whenever it is practicable or possible avoid leaving anyone in a quandary that might keep them in a state of mental agitation. Consider well what your absence might mean to anyone before you stay indefinitely anywhere or take your departure from home or office without giving any warning. Inconsideration is at times a form of cruelty that ought not to be tolerated without a protest. Married and engaged couples, and those who are deeply in love must consider each other's feelings before doing anything that might hurt them this day, particularly if it is any action that might be construed as a case of thoughtlessness or neglect. If a woman, and August 26 is your birthday, if you follow a profession or career, never permit yourself to become a "hard boiled" businesswoman, with no time to display your sentimental nature to those who are near and dear to you. If you would avoid being responsible for a great deal of unhappiness. If you are wise, you will completely separate your vocational activities from your home life, which can thrive only in an atmosphere surcharged with tenderness, sympathy and the spirit of co-operation. In some capacity as a sales manager, publicity agent, professional entertainer, broker, musician, designer, demonstrator, writer or lecturer, you may make remarkable strides towards success. Do your share to make your marriage a success, and your mate will more than likely do his. The child born on August 26 has generally plenty of self-possession, a remarkable amount of vitality, and a straightforward manner that inspires confidence. An unbridled tongue often gets such youngsters in trouble, so the earlier Virgo's children are taught to keep their under control the better. If a man, and August 26 is your natal day, being kind-hearted, generous and impulsive, you ought to have many friends and admirers. Your activities, regardless of what field they are in, should be well rewarded, especially if you engage in politics, or in a theatrical, theological, promotional, educational, literary, or specialized line of commercial work. Champions Chalk Up 11-0 and 8-2 Decisions Over Cellar Club to Boost Margin to Ten and a Half Games—Gordon Hits Another Homer—National League Games Rained Out

By The Canadian Press

Cleveland Indians blanked Philadelphia yesterday in an American League baseball game. Southpaw Harry Egan held the Mackmen to six scattered singles.

Chicago White Sox snatched a second straight defeat on Boston Red Sox, winning 9-2 with an eighth inning spurge of seven runs. With big Buck Newsum pitching four-hit ball, Detroit Tigers defeated Washington 5-2 today in an American League baseball game. It was Newsum's fifteenth victory of the season.

Two sparkling pitching performances brought the New York Yankees a pair of victories, 11-0 and 8-2, over the Browns, and increased the champions' lead in the American League to ten and one-half games. Steve Sundra, the "throw-in" for the Johnny Allen-Monte Pearson swap with Cleveland in 1936, allowed only four hits in capturing the first game, his eighth triumph without defeat this season; and the veteran Lefty Gomez permitted just three in the nightcap. In the first game, Joe Gordon hit a home run with two on in the opening chapter, and brought his total of homers for the season to twenty-three with another in the third, and battled in another run in the eighth with a single.

Sets New Mark at Langford Speedway

Victoria racing pilot, who last week set a new record at the Langford track when he speeded around the oval in 18.1-3 seconds, bettering by one-fifth of a second the mark of Wally Schock, Los Angeles, who set the record last week. Caldwell will be on hand this evening when Promoter Jack Taylor presents another of his popular weekly shows. As an added attraction, Victoria automobile racing fans will see Frank Baylis, daredevil motorcycle driver, dash through a flaming wall of fire. The show will start at 7:45 o'clock with the time trials.

Last night's scores:
Seniors—Conservatives 16, James Bay 15.
Juniors—Saahich Young Liberals 15, Owl Drug 4.

James Bay's pace-setting stickhandlers were handed another surprise packet last night at the Victoria Sports Centre, when Coach Gus Munroe's Conservatives came from behind and eked out a 16-15 triumph in a senior box lacrosse fixture. It was the third setback of the season for the Bays, and defeat number two at the hands of the Conservatives.

Slim, blonde-thatched Karl Ovcharick, one of the better performers on the winning line-up, was the player who caused the downfall of the leaders in a thrilling last period that had the fans up on their feet most of the time. Ovcharick only scored one goal all evening, but it was the marker that spelled defeat for the James Bay aggregation and victory for his teammates.

With the seconds ticking rapidly away during a rugged last stanza, and both squads fighting like Trojans for the winning marker, Ovcharick picked off the rebound from a bullet shot by Tom "Steamroller" Carney and sagged the net.

Penalties—Conservatives: McSweeney, Ludbrook, Carney, G. Coleman (3); total, 12 minutes. James Bay: (2), Wallace, Winterburn (2), E. McKim, Ball and Rhodes; total, 18 minutes.

Teams:
Conservatives—Mages, Lawrence, Enthwhistle, J. McSweeney (1), Mair, Alexander (1), Ludbrook (3), Watson, Carney (2), N. Baker (4), R. Baker (2), Hedgeson, Singleton, G. Coleman (1) and Ovcharick (1). Total, 16.

James Bay—A. McKim, Mason (2), Bray (2), Wallace (4), Doherty, Alvin, Winterburn (1), Clarke, E. McKim (1), A. Chapman (1), C. Chapman (2), Ball, Rhodes (1) and Pridham (1). Total, 15.

YOUNG LIBERALS WIN
Manager Vic Simpson's Saahich Young Liberals, smart aggregation of juvenile stickhandlers wound up their league schedule with an impressive 15-4 victory over Owl Drug in the curtain-raiser for the ninth successive triumph for the Saahich players, who have not lost a game all season. In their initial league tilt they were held to an 8-6 tie by the drugists.

Last night's score:
Athletics 5, Pitzer & Nex 5.
Next game, today: Pitzer & Nex vs. Athletics, Royal Athletic Park at 5:30 o'clock.

USHING over two runs in their half of the fifth and final frame, Manager Bert Nex's Pitzer & Nex ball toasters last night came from behind to gain a 5-5 tie with the Athletics in the sixth game of the Rithet Cup city championship baseball series.

This evening at 5:30 o'clock the clubs will meet again. A victory for the gasmen will give them the series and the silverware, captured last season by the Eagles, while a win for the A's will force another battle Monday evening.

Somby Walker and Fred Acres engaged in a pitching duel, each giving up seven base blows. The Athletics bunched four of their safeties in the fifth frame when they drove across three runs and took a 5-3 lead.

Battling with their backs to the wall, Pitzer & Nex knotted the score in their half of the same inning when they pounded out two safeties and sent a pair of runners scampering across the plate. Lanky Art Chapman, gasmen's centre fielder, was credited with driving across the tying run.

FIELDING HIGHLIGHT
Axl Kinnear, A's second sacker, pulled off the fielding highlight of the evening when he raced over close to the keystone bag and picked off a drive from Johnny Murray's bat and threw the Pitzer & Nex third sacker out at the initial cushion. It was a smart play and the fans gave the A's second sacker quite an ovation for his good handling of the hard chance.

Ted Maitland, back in uniform after a long rest due to injuries, led the hitters with three safeties, two doubles and a single, out of three trips to the plate. Noel Morgan, first baseman, led the gasmen's hitters with two safeties, a double and a single, out of three attempts.

Louis Leonard, portlander, will parade to the slab this evening for Pitzer & Nex, and will have Henry Woodford as his battery mate. Manager Tommy Restell, boss of the Athletics, will not name his starting pitcher until a few minutes before game time. The fixture will start at 5:30 o'clock and will be the final game on the "day of baseball programme" arranged to commemorate baseball's centenary year.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON
Goldfish Gulping—For the last 350 years, the Mayor, the Curate, the Members of the City Council and other officials of the town of Grammont, Belgium, have participated in a strange ceremony once every year at the beginning of Lent. Each dignitary is handed a goblet full of wine in which about a dozen live goldfish are floating. The official raises the cup to his lips and empties it in a single gulp—wine, fish and all. A great crowd stands around watching, to make sure that not only the wine but the wriggling fishes are swallowed whole. The date of the fish swallowing ceremony this year was February 22.

ERNEST BISHOP

Ernest Bishop, a graduate of the University of British Columbia and a student at Union College, Vancouver, United Church, Theological School, will be the preacher at Victoria West United Church tomorrow morning. Using Christ's denunciation of the Pharisees as a scriptural background, he will speak on the necessity of a steadfast refusal to compromise on social issues by the Christian Church today.

In the evening Mr. Bishop will take the service at James Bay United Church, when he will discuss the present international crisis, and suggest a Christian attitude to the problem of war. He will take as his text "A New Commandment Give I Unto You, That Ye Love One Another."

John McAllister, baritone soloist, will sing two solos at the evening service. He has chosen Sullivan's "The Lost Chord" for his first number, and "The Lord's Prayer," by Malotte, as his second selection.

ARMAGEDDON IS LECTURE THEME

E. E. Richards on Significance of Russo-German Pact in Bible Prophecy

"The Road to Armageddon," will be the topic of the address to be given by E. E. Richards on Monday at 8 o'clock, in the Campbell Building, under the auspices of the British-Israel World Federation.

Mr. Richards will speak on the significance of the Russo-German pact in prophecy as the "Road to Armageddon," which the Bible points as the final great conflict of the present age. Hitler's so-called master plan, the speaker believes will prove to be his undoing and destruction.

Questions to be dealt with will be "The Odds for and Against Great Britain," "Was the Russo-German Pact Really a Surprise?" "Will Japan Enter the Pact?" and "Will Victoria Black Out or Be Blacked Out?" Lantern slides will be shown.

ST. MATTHIAS' CHURCH

In the absence of Rev. Allan Gardiner on vacation, the services at St. Matthias' Church tomorrow will again be in charge of Ven. Archdeacon P. C. Cornish, D.D. He will preach morning and evening. Holy Communion will be celebrated at 8 a.m., Matins at 11 a.m., and Evensong at 7:30 p.m.

FIRST SPIRITUALIST

At First Spiritualist Church, 1216 Broad Street, tomorrow evening at 7:30, Rev. Walter L. Holder will give a trance address, the subject being "The Great Instructor." There will be messages at the close of the service. FORMER PASTOR TO SPEAK HERE

Rev. Dr. J. G. Inkster Returns To Pulpit in First United Church

Rev. John G. Inkster, D.D., of Knox Church, Toronto, and formerly minister at First Church here, will be associated with Rev. Hugh McLeod at the morning service at First United Church on Sunday, and will preach the sermon. Mr. McLeod will conduct the services, and will preach in the evening.

Dr. Inkster was minister of First Church from 1913 to 1921, during which the church was built, and many will undoubtedly be present to welcome him back to his former pulpit.

Music for the day follows: Morning, Robert Morrison will sing as a solo, "When the Tide Goes In" (Lorenz), and the choir anthem will be "Peace I Leave With You" (J. V. Roberts), with Mrs. C. A. Goodwin taking the solo part. Special music will be rendered at the evening service at the selections being suggested by the theme "Home Coming." Mrs. C. A. Goodwin will sing "The Ninety and Nine" (J. H. Rogers); the choir number will be "Lead Me Gently Home, Father" (J. Thompson), and following the sermon—the male quartette, composed of Neil Perry, J. M. Thomas, J. Loudoun and S. Oakes will sing "Nearer Home Today" (Fullmore).

From 7:10 to 7:30 Jack Smith, acting organist, will give an organ prelude of his own pieces, as follows: (a) "Hymn of Triumph," (b) "Gavotte in D," (c) "Sunset Meditation."

CHRIST JESUS IS LESSON-SERMON

Golden Text for Christian Scientists Tomorrow Taken From Gospel of John

"Christ Jesus" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientists, on Sunday. The Golden Text is: "The Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld His glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father) full of grace and truth" (John 1, 14).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us" (Matthew 1, 23).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The advent of Jesus of Nazareth marked the first century of the Christian era, but the Christ is without beginning of years or end of days. Throughout all generations both before and after the Christian era, the Christ, as the spiritual idea—the reflection of God—has come with some measure of power and grace to all prepared to receive Christ, Truth."

ARMAGEDDON IS LECTURE THEME

E. E. Richards on Significance of Russo-German Pact in Bible Prophecy

"The Road to Armageddon," will be the topic of the address to be given by E. E. Richards on Monday at 8 o'clock, in the Campbell Building, under the auspices of the British-Israel World Federation.

Mr. Richards will speak on the significance of the Russo-German pact in prophecy as the "Road to Armageddon," which the Bible points as the final great conflict of the present age. Hitler's so-called master plan, the speaker believes will prove to be his undoing and destruction.

Questions to be dealt with will be "The Odds for and Against Great Britain," "Was the Russo-German Pact Really a Surprise?" "Will Japan Enter the Pact?" and "Will Victoria Black Out or Be Blacked Out?" Lantern slides will be shown.

ST. MATTHIAS' CHURCH

In the absence of Rev. Allan Gardiner on vacation, the services at St. Matthias' Church tomorrow will again be in charge of Ven. Archdeacon P. C. Cornish, D.D. He will preach morning and evening. Holy Communion will be celebrated at 8 a.m., Matins at 11 a.m., and Evensong at 7:30 p.m.

FIRST SPIRITUALIST

At First Spiritualist Church, 1216 Broad Street, tomorrow evening at 7:30, Rev. Walter L. Holder will give a trance address, the subject being "The Great Instructor." There will be messages at the close of the service. On Monday at 7:45 p.m. there will be a public trance message circle in Room 69, Surrey Block, in charge of Mr. Holder, and on Thursday at the same place at 8 p.m. a public healing circle will be held by Mr. Holder.

HEALING MISSION

"It Is Finished" will be the theme of the address to be given by Lily Bruce-Drew tomorrow evening at 7:30 at the Spiritualist Healing Mission. A healing alliance will precede the address. Mrs. G. P. Milne will sing "Open the Gates of the Temple" and at the conclusion of the address Lily Bruce-Drew will sing "The Holy City" On Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a healing circle. The services of the Healing Mission are held in the Women's Institute, 635 Fort Street.

New Commander of Salvation Army

GENERAL G. L. CARPENTER

NEW commander of the Salvation Army, who was elected supreme head of this famous, worldwide organization, in succession to General Evangeline Booth, retired because of the age limit. General Carpenter, who has been a member of the Salvation Army for forty-eight years, was at the time of his election three days ago Commissioner for the whole of Canada.

UNITED CHURCH RANKS SECOND

Postoffice Only Institution With Greater Number Of Branches

MONTREAL, Aug. 25.—The Dominion Postoffice alone surpasses the United Church of Canada in the number of its branches, for no other institution, whether railroad or bank, exceeds the church's total of 7,493 preaching places, according to a recent statement made by Rev. Dr. A. Lloyd Smith, Montreal minister and a former Home Mission secretary. He made the statement by way of illustrating the vast extent of the United Church's home missionary activities.

It is perhaps because of its immense character that the average member of the church fails to realize what is being done in this respect, and the romance contained in missionary work, according to Dr. Smith. He said that people are inclined to believe that privation, hardship and heroism are a part of the missionary enterprise, without stopping to think of what is actually being accomplished.

Spreading from the Atlantic to the Pacific mission work is today handicapped by lack of men and money. Dr. Smith stated. Not since the church union, he said, have younger men been needed in the church as they are today. A family can make no greater contribution today, he held, than to send a son into the missionary field. To emphasize this point, he recalled that twenty-nine years ago in one section of Canada there had been no vacant places for men any longer available.

BRITISH-ISRAEL ASSOCIATION

RELIEF TOTALS STATED IN B.C.

Little Change in List for July
During Peak of Industrial Operations

British Columbia ended July, the busiest month for most of its primary and seasonal occupations, with 57,046 individuals officially recorded in receipt of relief assistance. This total compared with 56,392 individuals aided at a like date last year. Including welfare cases then handled separately.

Provincial relief reports yesterday for the period showed 13,360 heads of families, 36,203 dependents, and 7,483 single men on relief throughout the Province. Numbers were engaged in relief projects, under highway, forestry or other projects. Municipal relief works were reported expanding, with provincial and Federal aid.

A certain will was being disputed in court, and Pat found himself called as one of the principal witnesses.

One of the counsel thought that the uneducated Irishman would give him plenty of fun in the witness box.

"Now, Pat," he started, "was the deceased in the habit of talking to himself when he was alone?"

"O'Ve no idea, yer honor," came Pat's reply.

"Come, come!" the lawyer went on. "You say you don't know—had yet you told the court that you were a great friend of the deceased?"

"Well, sor," confessed Pat, "O' niver happened to be with him when he was alone."

Novel Attraction Is Highlight of Big Horse Show

The adage, "There's nothing new under the sun," is dispelled by Cummings' "Animal Sensation," which will be one of the highlights of the attractions to be seen at the horse show, to be held at the Fall fair, which starts on September 9.

This show, together with several other outstanding acts, booked through the Fanchon, Marco circuit, will be seen every night at the horse show, which will be held at the Willows from September 11 to 18, inclusive.

Included in the aggregation is a troupe of dogs offering a series of routines heretofore deemed impossible in dog training. A distinctly different type of mule act is also presented, in which much comedy is introduced by the obstinate antics of the mule.
